Said He Killed Girl

Frank Hulbert, 450 Davina Street, testified at the preliminary hearing of the Molly Justice murder this afternoon in the San Francisco Police Court that William Mitchell, charged with the murder, had told him that he (Mitchell) had killed the girl. The statement was made to Hulbert a day or so after the murder. (See page 11 for this morning's hearing.)

Savings Up in Year

OTTAWA (CP)—Savings deposits in Canadian chartered banks totaled $1,732,290,000 at May 31, compared with $1,926,252,000 at April 30 and $1,555,676,000 at May 31 last year, the finance department reported today.

Martinique Status To Be Discussed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. navy announced this afternoon that Vice-Admiral John Howard Hoover will confer with Admiral Georges Robert, high commissioner of Martinique.

R.A.F. Canadians Miss Home Leave

LONDON (CP)—An air ministry spokesman said today no arrangements had been made for Canadian flying personnel in the R.A.F. to enjoy the same home leave privileges as Canadian air men within the R.C.A.F.

Gene Krupa Jailed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gene Krupa, the "Hot Licks" drummer and band leader, was sentenced to prison today for one to six years on conviction of a charge that he induced a minor to procure narcotics.

Fighters Blast Railway Targets

LONDON (AP)—R.A.F. Boston bombers blasted three railway targets in France and the Low Countries today while Typhoon fighters struck at locomotives in continued harassing attacks on Nazi communications, the Air Ministry news service announced tonight.

Typhoons also were reported to have fired an oil storage tank near IJmuiden, the Netherlands, which sent up 100-foot flames.

Early tonight a strong force of R.A.F. planes, believed to include bombers, swept across the Channel in the direction of France, observers on the southeast coast reported.

D'Don't B'e S'cared, Terrified Nazis Told

STOCKHOLM (AP)—The Germans were given a new set of wartime rules to observe today. Noting the relentless pounding of Allied bombing raids is reducing the physical and psychological resistance of civilians, the Nazi health office has issued a brochure advising them what to do when "your knees weaken and your heart beats painfully against your breast with explosive force or jumps into your mouth."

Lift Import Tax

OTTAWA (CP)—To reduce the "landed cost" of essential food products imported into Canada, an order-in-council has been passed exempting a wide range of fresh vegetables and fruits from the 10-per-cent ad valorem war exchange tax and the 3 per cent special excise tax on imports from non-British Empire countries.

Affected by the order are potatoes, onions, green beans, cabbage, carrots, celery, lettuce, green peas, spinach, tomatoes, plantains, pineapples, pomegranates, guavas, mangoes, grapefruit and lemons.

Sicily Pounded Again

Bomb Axis Shipping In Mediterranean

By NOLAND NORGAARD

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA (AP)—Allied airmen shot down four German fighters and slashed again at Axis Mediterranean shipping Thursday in the wake of an R.A.F. fire-setting attack on barracks and railway facilities of Cagliari, Sardinia's major port, it was announced today.

(The Italian communiqué today said Palermo, the Sicilian capital, was attacked again Thursday night, and that the royal palace was "among the numerous buildings damaged." Catania, Sicily, also was raided, it said.)

(A DNB dispatch broadcast from Berlin reported United States airmen "carried out a bombing raid against a bathing resort situated near Athens Thursday in full daylight" and that 38 persons were killed and 60 injured. Allied communiqués did not touch on any such action.)

TWO SCHOONERS SUNK

Successful attacks on two enemy schooners by British coastal planes of the Northwest African command Wednesday were officially announced here. One was an 800-ton, two-masted vessel. The other was not described. Both were said to have been left sinking.

Wellington bombers, which have pounded away night after night for many weeks at vital ports in Sicily, Sardinia and southern Italy, concentrated on troop quarters and the railway station of Cagliari Wednesday night.

Many bomb-bursts were seen in the target area. One of the several fires observed was started by a two-ton block buster which fell near the railway station.

All operations of the northwest Africa, Middle East and Malta commands were reported carried out without the loss of a plane.

Spitfire pilots of the U.S. army air force shot down the four German fighters—one Messerschmitt 109 and three Focke Wulf 190's—off the north African coast. Routine sweeps and patrols were maintained from northwest African bases. Malta-based fighter-bombers attacked the Biscari airbase in Sicily, a Valetta communiqué said.

An Italian communiqué, issued Thursday, acknowledged fires were started in Cagliari, the Sardinian capital, and several buildings in the central area of the town were said to have collapsed.

(A Berlin broadcast of a Rome dispatch, recorded by the Associated Press, reported meanwhile that the heavy Allied daylight attack on Palermo Wednesday had destroyed two churches and other buildings. "The heart of the city was particularly damaged," the broadcast added.)

(Wednesday's raids by Allied squadrons were reported by an Italian communiqué to have killed 64 persons and injured 286 in Palermo and to have killed 10 and injured 36 along the Messina narrows and the Calabria coast.)

Raids Bite Deep Into Nazi Morale

BERNE (AP)—The Swiss weekly newspaper Weltwoche declared today the destructive bombing of the German Ruhr has had serious psychological effects, especially among miners in the valley.

The newspaper said the Ruhr miner considers himself in danger of losing everything. "Because of this feeling the British terror raids, as we learn from the Reich, awaken more and more a feeling of gloomy desperation and resignation which extends itself to relatives at the front of the people concerned," the article added.

"The destruction in the Ruhr area, from which Germany obtains about a third of her production of steel and iron, will have a corresponding weakening of the German army which can in no way be compensated for by moving industry."

An issue of the Bruessler Zeitung which has just reached here from Brussels declared the month of June had cut deep into German morale.

Ask Cut in Price Of Aluminum

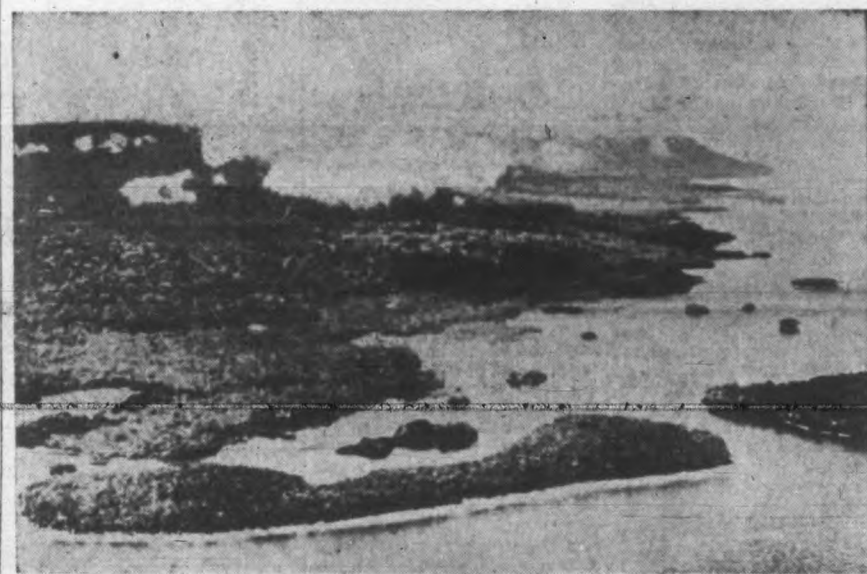

WASHINGTON (CP)—An approach has been made to the Aluminum Company of Canada for a reduction in the contract price of aluminum delivered from its Arvida plant to the U.S. government, Commerce Secretary Jesse Jones said today.

He was testifying before a House of Representatives committee on a resolution sponsored by Representative John Coffee (Dem., Wash.), calling for an investigation of the whole ship-shaw power and aluminum deal, by which Jones' Reconstruction Finance Corporation advanced $68,500,000 to the Aluminum Company of Canada.

Yanks Land On New Solomon Island Near Big Jap Base

Combined U.S. forces, striking a new blow in the Pacific, have occupied Rendova Island, five miles from the big Japanese base at Munda, in the central Solomons. The landing, indicated by arrow, was accomplished during early morning hours of June 30. The small map shows relation of the island to the south Pacific area.

Here's Rendova Island, in the New Georgia group of the Solomons, which was the newest target for U.S. invasion forces which landed on June 30 five miles from the large Jap base of Munda. Landing and occupation were completed in a few hours and Munda was being shelled by U.S. artillery soon after it was put ashore on the island.

Nazis Lose Production War

LONDON (AP)—Strained by nearly four years of total war and hammered day and night by Allied air power, German industry has lost the production race essential to victory, although Germany still has plenty of fight left, reliable British and foreign sources indicated today.

Figures gathered by these sources suggest Germany has positively passed her peak as a war-making power and now is on the downgrade. More conclusive evidence of this will appear within the year, it was said.

Steel production, which was at an annual rate of approximately 25,000,000 tons in January, 1942, fell to 92.5 per cent of that peak by the first of this year and was down to 89.5 per cent in May, according to figures here.

Tied in with reported electric power difficulties, which were magnified by the R.A.F.'s destruction of the Moehne and Eder dams, was an oil shortage.

The best sources estimate Germany normally needs 12,000,000 to 13,000,000 tons of oil yearly, and Italy 2,500,000 while a comparative lull in fighting exists. Major operations naturally send this consumption skyrocketing.

Germany's present oil reserve is estimated at 3,000,000 tons and the British and foreign sources emphasized that all she is likely to have to counter a prospective Allied invasion, since production is said to be just about keeping abreast of consumption.

According to the best information, the Reich now is getting around 5,000,000 tons of natural oil yearly from the Rumanian fields and between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 tons from synthetic plants.

But one of the catches in production of synthetic gasoline, the sources here said, is that the present output requires at least 15,000,000 kilowatt hours of Germany's available 80,000,000 kilowatt hours of electric power, which means just that much less power available for steel and armament industries.

Locomotives are another weak spot in Nazi war production. Simplified utility models are being turned out at about 300 monthly, but normal wear is estimated to force discard of between 150 and 200 monthly and in May alone the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. shot up or destroyed some 150.

Plane production is reported to have dropped sharply this year. Up to last year it was estimated the output was 2,500 to 3,000 monthly, half of them bombers. Now, according to the best information, the monthly output between 1,700 and 2,100, of which two-thirds are fighters for defence. Italian production is said to have fallen from 1,200 monthly last year to 600 or 700 now.

TANK OUTPUT DOWN

The sources said also it appeared that the Reich is turning out between 600 and 1,000 tanks monthly compared with a much higher production a year ago.

Only in submarine production is Germany on the upgrade, these sources said. Between 65 and 29 are being launched each month, compared with 16 to 10 a year ago.

From foreign contacts, quoted by a foreign diplomatic source, came the following additional reports of Germany's shortages: The Germans have ordered armored divisions moved by rail henceforth instead of motor transport to save oil, rubber and motors.

During the past three weeks the Nazis have requested all horses in Norway and Holland, presumably to help war transportation.

The age limit for the registration of women is to be extended in September from 45 to 60 years, and 15 to 16 year-olds of the Hitler Youth groups, until recently used only in the home areas, now are being sent to any area needed.

Heavy guns of the unfinished aircraft carrier Graz Zeppelin were dismantled and sent to Oslo, Norway, for coastal defence. Thirty per cent of the crews of German merchant ships now flying the North Sea are women.

Sailors Warned Of Gift Smokes

OTTAWA (CP)—Sailor, beware—don't give away duty-free cigarettes ashore in Canada, or else.

Published today in Canadian war orders and regulations is "naval order 2840 cigarettes—illegal disposal," over the signature of Capt. R. A. Pennington, secretary of the naval board.

It warned naval personnel that the revenue department knows "junior officers" attached to sea-going vessels take advantage of the duty-free cigarette privilege by "giving these cigarettes to their friends, mainly civilian, and to persons who are their guests in ward rooms."

Capt. Pennington issued this instruction:

"The practice of giving away duty-free cigarettes ashore in Canada is to cease forthwith and appropriate action will be considered in any cases of infraction of this order."

"Forthwith," to anybody who knows the navy, is the ultimate in immediacy.

123 Enemy Planes Bagged for Loss Of 25 of Allies

By MURLIN SPENCER

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, AUSTRALIA (AP)—Artillery shelling of the big Japanese air base at Munda in the central Solomons, destruction of 123 enemy planes and the consolidation everywhere along a 700-mile front of Allied gains under a canopy of bombers and fighters were announced today as successes in the as yet young Pacific offensive.

(Reports received directly from Admiral William F. Halsey's South Pacific headquarters later today said that continuing air action over the Munda region Thursday had raised the score of Japanese planes destroyed to 123. Against this, American losses for the first two days of the central Solomons offensive were fixed officially at 25 planes and 15 pilots.)

Never before in this war has this area witnessed such co-ordinated blows of power, speed and surprise struck by Allied navy, ground troops and airplanes.

In the two sectors of action, New Guinea and the Solomons, the most immediate progress was reported for the eastern arm of the two-pronged drive.

Today's communiqué disclosed that the United States forces which landed Wednesday on Rendova Island had destroyed the small Japanese garrison there by midday and within two hours after debarking from barges were firing shore batteries at the Munda air base five miles away.

Harbor Seized 30 Miles From Munda

Seizure of the only harbor in the New Georgia sector, Viru, 30 miles from Munda, also was announced. Hard fighting preceded capture.

Tonight a spokesman for Gen. Douglas MacArthur said there was nothing further to report from either the New Guinea or the Solomons fronts. From that statement, it was assumed here that all operations were proceeding satisfactorily and according to plan.

The Japanese poured medium bombers, dive bombers, torpedo planes and fighters at the landing parties and at Allied shipping.

Allied casualties to date in the Solomons operations were said by a spokesman for Gen. MacArthur to be light.

In heavy support of the Solomons operations, Allied naval units and planes blasted the enemy air bases at Vila and Munda, while other surface craft moved even farther up the Solomon chain and hit the Japanese in the Balance-Faist area.

Not I Man Lost In Nassau Landing

On New Guinea, near Salamaua, fighting was reported without a clear indication of the progress. Forces which landed at Nassau Bay, 12 miles down the coast from Salamaua, did not lose a man in getting ashore, MacArthur's spokesman said.

Australian patrols in the Salamaua area were reported to be seeking a junction from a point inland with the U.S. troops on the beach. Twelve miles south of Salamaua in the inland Mubo area, Australian patrols sought out enemy forces, and succeeded in killing 26, as well as wounding many others.

Continuously striving to pin to the ground the enemy's potent air strength at Rabaul, New Britain, Allied bombers sent 22 tons of bombs down on its three airbases, Thursday, following up an attack Wednesday, in which 23 tons were dropped.

Swarms of attack planes and medium bombers likewise afford effective support for the Salamaua invaders, machine-gunning enemy installations and troops.

Despite complete absence of reports concerning the unopposed landings of the Papua Peninsula of New Guinea on Woodlark and Trobriand Islands, it was assumed early activity there would include construction of airbases for use against New Britain to the north.

Other far-ranging blows struck

Thursday by Allied planes included the sinking of a small enemy boat off the Tanimbar Islands above Darwin, the damaging of two float planes over Buka Passage in the northern Solomons and attacks on enemy sampans in the St. Matthias group of islands northwest of New Britain.

Navy Transport Sunk After Troops Landed

The navy transport McCawley, which sank without loss of a single man after an aerial attack on the first day of the Rendova landings, was the only American ship lost in the operation, headquarters announced. The McCawley was known widely as the flagship of the original Guadalcanal invasion transport fleet last August.

Headquarters also disclosed that the occupation by marines of Viru harbor on the main island of New Georgia (announced previously by Gen. MacArthur) was achieved after the American forces had fought their way through a jungle against "medium" Japanese opposition.

These marines, headquarters said, were landed as an advance element several days before the main push.

The Americans on Rendova were reported today to be engaged in mopping up the remnants of Japanese resistance.

The invaders were said so far to have encountered nothing stronger than patrols in the way of ground opposition, and the enemy's efforts to counter the landings were limited largely to air attacks on the U.S. troops and their invasion craft.

These were continuing despite the heavy losses sustained by the Japanese in the first big air battle which followed shortly after transports had unloaded U.S. army soldiers and marines on Rendova Wednesday morning. The entire American operation was described officially today as "successful and proceeding according to plan." "Our forces are well established," the announcement added.

Roosevelt Veto Sustained By House Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House of Representatives sustained President Roosevelt's veto of the Commodity Credit Corporation Bill banning subsidies to roll-back food prices this afternoon after he had denounced it as "an inflation bill" which "blacks out the program to reduce the cost of living."

The decision gave the administration its first major victory after a series of setbacks on its domestic policies.

In his veto message to Congress Mr. Roosevelt said the bill would set the soldier, worker and unorganized consumer "at war with the farmer." The bill would extend the life of the Commodity Credit Corporation.

In one of the most acid messages he ever transmitted to Congress, the President said the measure was not one to continue the C.C.C. but to "hamstring" it. "It places new and unwarranted restrictions on the use of its funds," he asserted, "and on the powers heretofore given to the administration to stabilize the cost of living."

"By this measure, the Congress will compel every housewife to pay five cents a pound more for every piece of butter that goes on her table, and to pay higher prices for every pork chop, every ounce of beef, every slice of ham or bacon which goes to feed her family."

Pacific Veteran 15, Off to School

YONKERS, N.Y. (CP)—At 15 Walter Morawsky is looking forward to entering high school next fall for the first time, and looking back on the year he spent cruising around the Pacific on a United States aircraft carrier, shooting down Japanese bombers.

R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. Raids Paralyzed Vital Nazi Canal

Soviet Warplanes Concentrating On Taman Bridgehead

LONDON (CP)—Russian bombers, continuing their heavy attacks on the German bridgehead on the Taman Peninsula, blasted the town of Senaya Thursday night and flew across Kerch strait to hammer the port of Kerch on the eastern tip of the Crimea, the Soviet midday communiqué announced today.

A large number of high explosive and incendiary bombs were rained on shipping in Kerch harbor and on enemy supply dumps, said the bulletin, which was broadcast by the Moscow radio and recorded by the Soviet monitor here.

All the raiders were said to have returned safely. The raids coincided with German reports of increased Russian activity opposite their lines on the Taman Peninsula, which some observers interpreted as an indication the Red Army might be about to break the four-month lull on the eastern front with a determined effort to drive the Nazis from their last foothold in the Caucasus.

BARGES MASSED
Enaya, one of the targets of the Russian airmen Thursday night, is about 25 miles west of Temyruk, where the Germans have reported the Russians have been massing landing barges.

A Soviet spokesman said Thursday night that the recent increase in aerial activity in this area "heralds big engagements on land, for which both sides are preparing."

GUERRILLAS' VICTORIES
The Moscow radio quoted the Soviet army organ Red Star today as saying Russian guerrillas had killed more than 31,000 Germans in the last five months. In the same period said the broadcast, which was recorded by the Soviet radio monitor here, the guerrillas derailed 238 German trains and smashed 222 locomotives and 1,809 boxcars.

U.S. Will Clear Kiska When Ready, Says Governor

EDMONTON (CP)—Governor Ernest Gruening of Alaska in an interview here said the doom of the Japanese on the Kiska Island in the Aleutians is sealed and it is not "a matter of can we exterminate them; it's just a matter of when."

Mr. Gruening, only governor in the western hemisphere who has part of his territory in the hands of the enemy, arrived Thursday from Alaska to be Edmonton's special guest at joint celebrations tonight of U.S. Independence Day and Canada's Dominion Day. At a mass meeting the governor will be the main speaker.

Convoy at Rock

NEW YORK (AP)—The Berlin radio, quoting dispatches from La Linea, Spain, reported today that a convoy of 25 Allied transports had arrived Thursday at Gibraltar and continued on into the Mediterranean after a short halt to make way for another convoy arriving from the Atlantic.

The broadcast also reported that another convoy consisting of eight transports heavily laden with war material had left Gibraltar Thursday.

The British warships Nelson and Rodney and the aircraft carrier Formidable still are anchored in the roadstead along with 12 torpedo boats and three destroyers, the broadcast added.

Says Shipyards Charges Will Prove Untrue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Commerce Secretary Jesse Jones testified today that an investigation of United States aid in development of the Canadian Shipyards power and aluminum project would "disprove 99.9 per cent of the charges and innuendoes" concerning the deal.

Jones, appearing as chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, told a House of Representatives committee he had not the slightest objection to a proposed Congressional inquiry, but said in response to questions, that he saw no need for it because "there's nothing that can't be had" by members of Congress concerning it.

Rickenbacker Delayed

MOSCOW (AP)—Capt. Edward V. Rickenbacker was forced to return to Moscow today when his plane developed engine trouble on the first leg of his trip back to the United States. The trouble occurred 40 minutes after the plane had left the capital.

Postwar Proposals

Legion Says Veterans Will Insist on New Deal

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Legion said today in an extensive submission to the Commons committee on postwar reconstruction and re-establishment that Canada "can never survive, nor indeed will her people tolerate, another period of depression such as they experienced before the war."

The brief, presented by Alex Walker, Dominion president, said: "The causes of depression, now commonly believed to be due largely to the ignorance, shortsighted selfishness and stupidity of human beings, must be ruthlessly destroyed or the men and women who have served both in our armed forces and our war industries... will seek to change our economic system, and we believe the vast majority of their fellow citizens will help change it."

The Legion "on the whole" agreed that measures already taken by the government should assist materially in re-establishing ex-servicemen in the immediate post-discharge period, but improvements and modifications would undoubtedly be necessary.

NO BREAK WANTED

Recognizing that rehabilitation of servicemen and women should proceed concurrently with re-establishment of those now engaged solely in war industry, the brief said:

"Re-establishment will mean to them continuous employment with adequate remuneration, without regimentation or destruction of personal initiative, whether it be as an employee or as a proprietor of a business or as a professional man or as an executive." Canadians had a moral obligation to members of the armed forces, and adequate steps should be taken to ensure that they should "in no way be penalized on their return to civil life and, so far as possible, shall be assured of that place in civil life which they might reasonably be assumed to have obtained had they not enlisted."

Recalling the "disillusionment" that followed demobilization after the first Great War, the brief called for preparation now of "well co-ordinated" plans, worked out in detail by federal, provincial and municipal authorities, with the federal government supplying financial assistance to the provinces and municipalities. Problems of federal-provincial relations affecting national schemes for reconstruction should be solved now.

CONTROLS NEEDED

To reach a type of economy providing for individual liberty, employment and a decent standard of living for all, Canadians should be prepared to accept whatever type of controls may be necessary, either through the retention of those now in effect, or through new ones created to cope with postwar conditions.

"We do not subscribe to the view that freedom from want and freedom from fear cannot be realized until we establish world markets," the brief said. "It is our belief that this country can produce all the food it needs to maintain the health of its people, and the raw materials to provide them with shelter and fuel. We are not suggesting that export markets are unnecessary to our prosperity, but we do assert that, regardless of the export market, the primary needs of our people can be met, wholly or to a large extent, from our own resources, by our own efforts."

Measures should be taken to explore and cultivate both foreign and domestic markets for Canadian products.

URGE LINKING UP

Discussing living standards, the brief said that unless the minimum wage is linked to the cost-of-living index and rigidly observed, "there will be many people who will fall into a condition of semi-starvation." The state should see that all unemployed and incapacitated citizens have adequate subsistence and that those employed receive something additional to adequate subsistence for their work.

The brief expressed belief reconstruction and rehabilitation should be treated as part of the war effort and the necessary funds be raised by taxation.

The Legion recommended an immediate survey of war plants with a view to ascertaining which might be converted to peace-time manufacturing. Definite information should be obtained as to the number of persons who could be employed in such plants in each locality.

PREFERENCE FOR VETERANS

Preferential treatment in all categories of employment to ex-servicemen after the war was urged.

"The Legion desires to make the point that any plans of reconstruction that do not provide for preferential treatment of the fighting men will be regarded as unjust and will bring bitter reaction. We desire to put forward the proposal that provision be made for a general preference to discharged men in all employment, whether under private enterprise or under the federal, provincial or municipal governments, throughout the country."

"Government contractors, both federal and provincial, and government departments, for certain types of employment, should be required by law to fill all vacancies and preference should be given to discharged men of this and the last war."

The Legion recognized that placement of severely handicapped servicemen was a problem which should receive special treatment, and urged that vocational training should be given first to returned men to fit them as quickly as possible after demobilization for civil employment. The brief said the Legion believed Canada should maintain a navy, army and air force "at some considerable strength" after hostilities cease, and a policy should be adopted of subsidizing "shadow factories" for potential development of new military inventions.

REDUCTION OF TAXATION

Gradual relaxation of taxation and establishment of one taxing authority for the Dominion with distribution to the provinces also was advocated.

The Legion urged the government to embark immediately on the purchase of suitable lands for the settlement of veterans. No veterans should be established on virgin or undeveloped land.

As a means of creating employment, the Legion advocated a vast postwar undertaking of public works, rural road building, reforestation, soil conservation, extension of geological surveys, development of fisheries. Consideration also should be given to the necessity of increasing Canada's population by immigration.

"But measures should be applied gradually and only after the problem of adequate provision for the return of the Canadian economy of veterans of the present war and those engaged in war work have been established on a sure and satisfactory basis."

Replace Bridges

EDMONTON (CP)—Bridges along the Alaska Military Highway which were washed out with the spring thaw have now been replaced or are being replaced at a fast rate and generally things are going ahead rapidly, Brig-Gen. James A. O'Connor, head of the U.S. Army's Northwest Service Command in charge of the highway, said here today.

Name U.S. General Pantelleria Chief

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA (AP)—Brig-Gen. A. C. Strickland, veteran U.S. army aviator, has been appointed garrison commander and military governor of Pantelleria, the Italian island which surrendered June 11 under the Allied aerial offensives, it was announced today.

Wing Commander J. D. Bladde of the R.A.F. occupies a similar post at Lampedusa, which capitulated the day after Pantelleria fell.

STOCKHOLM (AP)—German troops in Norway are conducting extensive anti-invasion exercises and have issued detailed instructions to the Norwegians on what they must do in the event of invasion, reports reaching here from Oslo said.

Japs Say Allies Lost at Rendova

NEW YORK (AP)—Japanese Imperial headquarters claimed today their forces sank six Allied warships and three transports, damaged five other vessels and shot down 77 planes in the Rendova Island area in the Solomons V'ednesday and Thursday during the successful Allied landings there.

These claims, characteristic of the reports of great successes the Japanese frequently issue for propaganda purposes, were at great variance with officially-announced Allied losses.

(Allied headquarters announced loss of 25 planes and the 7,712-ton transport McCawley as a result of the action.)

A communiqué broadcast from Tokyo and recorded by the Associated Press claimed the vessels sent to the bottom included a "B-class" cruiser, four large destroyers and one smaller destroyer.

Vessels reported damaged were another cruiser, a destroyer and three transports.

The communiqué acknowledged 31 Japanese planes had not returned to base.

130,000 Lose Homes When Barmen Razed

STOCKHOLM (AP)—R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. heavy bombers, in blasting sluces at Duisburg May 12 and at Oberhausen June 14, paralyzed traffic on the Rhine: Herne Canal, eyewitness reports from Germany declared today.

Herne, a town in Westphalia, is situated about 22 miles northwest of Duisburg, which is located at the junction of the Rhine and Ruhr.

Witnesses said a great many barges, used mainly in transporting coal from the Ruhr district to Rotterdam, either were trapped between those points by the attacks or smashed by explosives.

This would place an additional load on the already struggling German railway system, which has been diverting to inland waterways as much freight as possible.

The eyewitnesses said the force of the blasts delivered by the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. in the raid on Barmen May 29 was beyond their "dreams."

5,500 KILLED

Police officially estimated that between 5,000 and 6,000 were killed and 20,000 injured, in that bombing, they declared, mainly because residents did not have time to reach shelters. Some 130,000 families were reported bombed out over an area of seven square miles and Barmen was said to have been leveled.

The reports said firemen had to struggle to cope with what one source described as a new type of incendiary bomb which the Germans called a "Gummi Schlange" (rubber snake) because it wiggled as it descended.

SERVICES GONE

The raid left Barmen without water, electricity, gas, telephone and streetcars, the witnesses said, adding that the main railway station was smashed, police headquarters and the town hall gutted and the suspension railway through Wuppertal, of which Barmen is a part, destroyed at several points.

One source said he believed the raid eliminated Barmen as an important war production centre because so many factories were destroyed and the city was so devastated that plants still intact

The eyewitness, who also traveled through Krefeld, claimed that at least five-sixths of that city was laid in ruins.

Roosevelt Saves
Max Stephan
From GallowsWASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt drew Max Stephan, Detroit traitor, back from the gallows from which he was to be hanged today and commuted his sentence to life imprisonment. The President acted late Thursday night.The 52-year-old German-born restaurateur was convicted of harboring and assisting Ober-leutnant Hans Peter Krug, a Nazi flier who escaped from the Canadian prison camp at Bowmanville, Ont., made his way to Detroit and finally was recaptured in San Antonio, Texas.Mr. Roosevelt decided the death sentence was too severe, since Stephan's treason "was not part of a preconceived plan."When a warden told the news to Stephan at the federal correctional institution at Milan, Mich.,
the prisoner bent and kissed the warden's hand, then collapsed and burst into tears.The White House statement said Stephan was guilty, was properly convicted of treason, and there was no question in the Chief Executive's mind that he was, and probably is, pro-German or pro-Nazi.But the President determined that his case was "less of an offense" than that of eight saboteurs who landed on United States shores from German submarines, as members of the German armed forces but wearing civilian clothes.Six of the saboteurs were executed, one got a life sentence and one 30 years at hard labor.
The White House statement termed their offenses "akin to a carefully-planned murder in the first degree," but Stephan's treason, it added, "bore something of a parallel to murder in the second degree or manslaughter in the first degree."If Stephan had met death on the gallows today it would have been the first time a life had been exacted for treason in this country.Stephan, naturalized U.S. citizen, served as a sergeant in the German army in the First Great War. His wife, Agnes, has had her citizenship taken away and has been in federal custody for

Board's Action On
Canning SugarBy JAMES MCCOOK
Canadian Press Staff WriterOTTAWA (CP)—House of Commons members spent the traditional Dominion Day holiday with day nurseries, canning sugar and the cost of living, as they plodded through war appropriation bill estimates.They completed discussion of the Labor Department's $21,000, 000 share of the estimated war expenditure for 1943-44—their study including payments to provinces for day nurseries to care for the children of mothers working in war industries—and the movement of farm labor from the prairies to the east for a temporary period.At the evening sitting, the House took up an item of $14, 300,000 for Prices Board administration costs in the finance department war estimates.Finance Minister Isley said the outstanding achievement of the Prices Board was stabilization of the cost of living. From Nov. 1, 1941, to May 1, 1943, the cost-of-living index rose only 1.5 per cent, while in the United States in the same period the increase was 12 per cent. In Canada, in the same period of the last war, the rise was 22.5 per cent.

$350,000,000 SAVED

Mr. Isley estimated the price control had saved Canadians $350,000,000 in ordinary outlays in 1942, and if prices remained stabilized throughout 1943 the saving would be $550,000,000.Some of the shortages experienced, such as those in jams, jellies and marmalades, were not due to decreased production but to increased demand because of "a desirable redistribution" of consumer purchasing power, with those whose standards of living were relatively low having gained a better position.Mr. Isley said experience had convincingly shown price control could be effectively maintained only by the judicious use of subsidies, es-timated to cost $120,000,000 in the present fiscal year.He said he was satisfied board salaries were reasonable, and he believed the highest were less than $10,000. A return had been tabled showing salaries of more than $5,000 and now those below that range were being sought.He felt the information must be given if members wanted it, but the moment it was made public, pressure would come from men who said others received more than they did and presently the board would be "in hot water."

HOUSEWIVES LET DOWN

Gordon Graydon, Conservative
House leader, said the board should never again advertise that housewives should undertake canning and give no indication that a limitation on the sugar supply would be imposed later. Housewives who had planned extensive canning had been disappointed later when a limitation was imposed.Mr. Isley said the board looked for suggestions on rationing canning sugar. He agreed that the idea of canning had been "over-sold" by advertisements. The amount of sugar sought in applications was far in excess of normal requirements for this purpose. Local ration boards had made the allocation of sugar available and some had "made it hard for themselves."He said the total of his estimate for the Prices Board was $14,300, 000, broken down as follows:
Salaries $9,200,000, traveling expenses $920,000, printing and stationery $1,400,000, telephones $260,000, telegrams $100,000, legal and audit $700,000, advertising $800,000, sundries $640,000, postage, freight and express $30,000, local ration boards $600,000.At the opening of the sitting, Prime Minister King said in a Dominion Day statement that the new year of Canada's existence beginning Thursday would witness the country's supreme effort.
He said the people during the year "may be called upon to pass through an ordeal greater than any our country has ever experienced," which would demand steadiness, determination and the utmost unity.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War AnalystWhile we are awaiting developments in the war theatres I have on hand an intriguing question which you might like to try your hands at answering, and it starts like this:"Doesn't Hitler know he will be beaten in the long run?"When that was submitted to me I replied without hesitation:
"Of course, he does. And so does the German high command, for they are top-flight soldiers, and the cards patently are against them.""Well, then," persisted my questioner, "why doesn't Hitler quit now and save unnecessary bloodshed and suffering for his country?"That's not so easy to answer, is it? When you sit down to figure it out, a lot of different angles rush to the mind. The first thing that struck me was that my reply hadn't been complete and that therefore I was starting from a faulty premise.

AWAIT MIRACLE

I should have said that Hitler and his military experts know they are beaten—barring some unforeseen development in the nature of a near miracle. The odds are vastly against them, but there's always a possibility that fate might give them a break.
And so long as a whisper of chance remains, just so long will the Boche hang on—unless frenzy overcomes morale.What then is there to encourage them in holding out? In answering this it's mighty impor-tant for us to remember that any straw is a life-raft to a drowning man. Any development which is unfavorable to the Allies is grabbed by the enemy as a potential means of salvation.Just as we watch the Nazis eagerly to see what hurts he has sustained and whether his morale is breaking, so he watches us. And in his despairing condition he is bound to magnify little straws of hope.Take this for illustration: Yesterday London, in reporting on the damage done to the German industrial city of Dortmund by bombing, cited among other things that two collieries had been heavily damaged and probably put out of production. That's an important item which will help to beat Hitler.

COMFORT FOR NAZIS

Two collieries—my hat! We get satisfaction out of that, while at the same time our news reports record that some 100,000 coal miners still are idle in the United States. Birmingham tells us that this has resulted in a cut of 20 per cent in Alabama steel production. It's said the reduction will mean a loss of 2,000 tons of war-vital steel every 24 hours.How much hope do you suppose the Axis extracts from a grave situation like the United States coal strike? That's enough to give the shaky morale of an entire nation a fillip.Thus do the Nazis take fresh courage from every breakdown in a vital industry in an Allied country.Enemy Transport Blasted Off GreeceCAIRO (AP)—R.A.F. planes heavily damaged a medium-sized enemy transport vessel in Levkas Channel off the west coast of Greece Thursday and shot up a schooner in the same area, a British communique announced today.The transport previously had been attacked June 27 and was left at that time listing heavily and blocking the channel, the bulletin said. Further hits were scored on her Thursday.All planes were reported to have returned safely from the operations.

GO TO THE ROOT OF IT

The City Fathers must certainly think that we, the people of Victoria, are an unintelligent lot, indeed, to believe that teenage girls are entirely responsible for the high venereal disease rate in this city.Stamp out prostitution and the V.D. rate will go down. There is only one way to do this, as well as prosecuting the madames and girls, prosecute those who rent premises for such purposes, and as for the procurers, put them in prison for the rest of their lives.Parent education would also be a helpful factor in controlling this loathsome disease. Higher principles of living can only be instilled in boys and girls before adolescence. As it is highly improbable that all parents can be made to see the light, then it should become the duty of our educators to see that the jaws of sex be taught at school by those properly instructed in such matters. It would be the height of folly to suppose that this would entirely solve the situation, but I am sure a large percentage could be made to realize the importance of prophylactic measures.While there is very cheering news, regarding the use of sulfa drugs for gonorrheal infections, in the Forces, it must be remembered it is relatively simple checking up on men in the Forces compared to checking up on those in civilian life. And so far, the sulfa drugs have not proved effective on syphilis.Therefore, the quickest way to bring down the rate is to stamp out prostitution and its attendant evils. And get busy on it now be-

Mr. Churchill On Japan

AGAIN, IN HIS SPEECH IN THE GUILD hall on Wednesday, Mr. Churchill reiterated the promise he made to the United States Congress nearly six weeks ago—that should the war in Europe be won first, Britain would throw her full weight into the conflict with Japan. Here is his latest phrasing of that pledge:

"Every man, every ship, every airplane in the King's service will be sent and sent maintained in action by the people of the British Commonwealth and Empire in priorities for as many years as are needed to make the Japanese in their turn submit or bite the dust."

It will be recalled that when he spoke in Washington on May 19, the Prime Minister assured the assembled lawmakers that his country would wage war against Japan "side by side" with the United States "while there is breath in our bodies" and "while blood flows in our veins." True enough, the British Prime Minister had said in his March broadcast that at least some of Britain's warriors might have to be demobilized after Hitler had been crushed; but no thinking person interpreted that statement to mean anything save as an intelligent recognition of certain physical facts. Nor is it necessary to elaborate these; for, as Mr. Churchill told Congress, the policy of His Majesty's Government is that British forces, "in accordance with the best strategic employment" of them, shall play their full part in "the unflinching and relentless war against Japan."

It was perhaps the classic statement below which especially cheered the hearts of the American people on that occasion, and particularly men like Senator Chandler of Kentucky, who had conceived the idea that when Axis Europe had been subdued, Britain's ardor for transferring her services to the Pacific theatre would have cooled. Said Mr. Churchill:

"It is the duty of those who are charged with the direction of the war to overcome at the earliest moment the military, geographical and political difficulties and begin the process to necessary and desirable of laying the cities and other munitions centres of Japan in ashes—for in ashes they must surely lie before peace comes back to the world. That this objective holds a high place in the present conference is obvious to thinking men."

When the two statements, the one made in Washington in May and the other in London on Wednesday of this week, are considered together, moreover, any remaining doubts that may have lingered in some minds in the neighboring republic ought now to have completely dissolved. And it should be remembered, too, that Britain as well as the United States has a big score to settle with Japan. Mr. Churchill's original statement—which caused much heartburning in some quarters—that he did not propose to pre-empt the liquidation of the British Empire likewise should have suggested to the doubting Chancellors that Hitler's liquidation would furnish new impetus for a combined concentration against Nippon.

End to Justify Means

WHEN THE CHAMPION IS BEING badly bruised and pushed around by his opponent, the manager hurries him back to the corner as soon as the bell rings and carefully takes stock of the damage. One ear is bleeding, the upper lip looks bad, and the left eye is swollen and out of commission for the rest of the fight. But morale must be maintained, and the manager tells his fighter: "Go on out, boy, and kill him." Altogether it is a painful spectacle.

Much the same thing is happening to General Freiherr von Falkenhausen, military commander for Belgium and Northern France. This Nazi is in trouble, suffering from an acute case of occupation jitters. For a typical representative of the "Herrenvolk," the powerful master race, the experience is a humiliating one. For three years von Falkenhausen has been bestowing the blessings of the "new order" on the Belgians. He has tried to convince them, first by cajolery and now finally with threats. Nothing has seemed to work.

On the eve of the third year of occupation, von Falkenhausen issued a lengthy and detailed decree on the maintenance of peace and order in Belgium. The document covers most of the Verböten already issued and tightens up the punishment in many cases, as a principle, of course.

The Germans have tried to persuade the local authorities to do part of their dirty work. They especially counted on the judiciary. Their reasoning was apparently logical. "We issue food regulations in collaboration with the local Belgian authorities," they said. "If anyone transgresses them, we want to punish him, because he disrupts public order. You Belgians must punish him, too, for he endangers your economy, even your lives. When one Belgian kills another for political reasons, you should also intervene. Whatever the reasons for murder, no judge can accept individual violence as a means of justice." The Belgian courts, however, saw all too clearly the fallacy in this simple reasoning.

Recognition of this situation has finally penetrated the thick skull of Belgium's temporary master. The first section of the ordinance declares that from now on German penal law will be applied wherever possible in Belgium. German "law," as everybody knows, is based on that remarkable principle of obscene egotism: "Recht ist was dem deutschen Volke nützt." Whatever is useful to the German people is right. In all the occupied territories, the same rule is to be applied. Anyone disturbing the "peace" may be punished by death. Anything, prejudicing in any way the German cause, is punishable, and generally the punishment is death. But the "Herrenvolk" eventually will get their desserts.

Police Enlistments

IT WAS STATED AT A LOCAL MEETING the other day that some police authorities are discouraging the enlistment in the armed services of members of their forces. Similar statements have appeared in the press in other parts of Canada, accompanied by criticism of the police authorities. Such criticism is based on the feeling that if policemen are discouraged or prevented from enlisting, the army, navy and air force are deprived of some good men.

To be considered on the other side of the question is the responsibility of police forces to maintain law and order at home, which is essential to the maintenance of efficiency on the fighting front. If men are drawn from the police forces to a point where the public safety is in jeopardy, then the police authorities are unable to discharge that responsibility.

Between the manpower requirements of the police service at home and service in the armed forces, there should be no difficulty in determining just where the dividing line runs at any time. The selective service machinery, it would seem, was set up in Canada for just such cases. Any deferment of policemen or requests that they should not enlist, must come under the eyes of responsible federal officials in charge of manpower disposition. It is for the police authorities to set forth their requirements, and it is for federal officers to decide whether the need is more urgent for the policemen in the armed services. The onus, in any case, should not be on the policeman as an individual. This should be made clear to the public.

Feminine Warning

ONE OF THE SPEAKERS AT A CONGRESS of Women in Britain the other day wanted to know whether the menfolk expected mothers to bring boys into the world to have them killed 25 years later. It was a potent question, one to which the old school of thought that turns the blind eye to democracy on the march should give more than passing consideration. For, make no mistake about it, unless the English-speaking nations and other anti-Axis countries begin to prepare now for the aftermath of this global conflict along practical lines, the so-called gentler sex will don its battle armor and make Mrs. Pankhurst's suffrage campaign in the days prior to the first Great War look like a Sunday school picnic.

The speaker to whom we refer spoke the truth when she said "the future of Britain is still at school." The implication of that remark should be applied to Canada, the United States and all those countries that will play a dominating part after Axis tyranny has been destroyed. Many Britons, for example, well remember what they were promised in 1918. There were to be homes "fit for heroes to live in"; health centres; school meals and milk for children; new nursing and maternity services; a higher education program—continuation schools up to 18; a planned agricultural policy; and an adequate scheme for demobilizing the fighting men after the war. What were the replies of the governments of Mr. Lloyd George after the "khaki election" of 1918, of Mr. Bonar Law after the 1922 "Carlton Club meeting," of Mr. Baldwin, of Mr. MacDonald, and of Mr. Baldwin again? Why were the promises not carried out? Because:

1. The cost of government housing schemes was too high because big business insisted on the removal of price controls.
2. Home problems were largely forgotten in the excitement of "making Germany pay."
3. After a temporary boom, "economy at all costs" was put over "as a national need."
4. In the scramble for jobs, long-term plans were forgotten.
5. The cry of "no government interference" carried the day.

Much prominence to these reminders of the follies of the past is being given by far-seeing planners in Britain today. But the advocates of practical reconstruction and rehabilitation point out, too, some of the reasons why Britain can do better this time. For example:

1. We have a greater industrial machine than ever which can be turned over to peacetime purposes.
2. We have a complete system to regulate and control prices and trade operations.
3. We have the greatest report on the Social Services—Sir William Beveridge's—ever prepared; and full reports on use of land.
4. We have learned that full employment can be maintained by national organization.
5. The war has helped to break down some class divisions and given us a new sense of community.
6. In our bombed cities, we have the chance to rebuild a better home for ourselves.

While the foregoing applies specifically to Britain, we in Canada have a similar opportunity to do better, much better, than we did last time. Failure to profit by the lessons of the past, however, will mean a Canadian contribution to another war to kill the boys who are now in their cradles. Canada's future, too, is at school.

Notes

The ultimate in absurd futility: Lighting a hospital ship at night so the Japs will recognize it and not sink it.

Disagreeing with generals and admirals doesn't prove civilians foolish. Military leaders disagree, too.

The strange thing about religion is that people who practice it least are quickest to fight about it.

We'll probably forgive the enemy—not because we are righteous, but because we lack the moral backbone to stay interested, alert and tough.

Bruce Hutchison

VAIN HOPE

ONE OF MY spies, an elderly lady who travels under the disguise of age and respectability, has just brought in important and encouraging news. Her special beat is on Pandora Avenue and her assignment is to watch the Thing for signs of any change in it. Well, she reports that the Thing is beginning to decay.

The door, she tells me, already is going fast, fairly moldering away. She has examined it carefully and doesn't think it will last long and the rest of the structure will follow it into collapse within measurable time. For according to her expert observation, the Thing is jerry-built, of lath and plaster and was not designed, as I had suspected, for eternity. It will not belong to the ages.

Yes, within measurable time, perhaps before you are dead, the Thing will fall to pieces from neglect. This my elderly spy reported with a look of delight, but, alas, she rejoices too soon.

Of course the present Thing will dissolve under the elements in due time but, poor spy, do you think the City Council will not replace it? Why, the mere mention of the matter here in this department today will send a squad of carpenters rushing up Pandora Avenue tomorrow morning, or perhaps tonight.

Before these words have been in print an hour the City Council will have expert craftsmen examining the damaged door. Repairs will start immediately. Priorities will be secured from the government to purchase lumber for an essential war purpose, hardware will be procured, paint applied and an architect will approve the repairs. By tomorrow night, I dare say, the structure will be almost as good as new and, to the casual observer, quite as good.

ALWAYS MONEY

WHEN THE THING was built we were just recovering from the depression. Nearly 1,000,000 Canadians were on relief. The housing of the nation had fallen into disrepair. Yet the City Council found money to defoul the only really first class street in town. Never fear, it will always have money for such purposes.

If the present structure finally rots away, as a merciful nature and a just Providence will assure, then the City Council will rear up a new one. I have no doubt that plans for it already are in preparation, with much elaboration over the present simple model which was only a temporary experiment. Another series of bulbous swellings will be added, a more fancy tower, more red, green and blue lights and probably some moving parts, a windmill, for instance, to attract the eye of any person who might otherwise pass the horror, unmoved.

And this time, you may be sure, it will be built for the ages. It will be no longer a fake lighthouse of stucco. It will be the real thing this time, of stone and solid concrete, which will stand for 10,000 years.

Why, I can visualize even now, with a blazing vision, the ceremony when at last the permanent Thing is unveiled. I can see in my mind's eye now the crowds jamming Pandora Avenue on a sunny 24th day of May (to reverse the name of the good Queen, who will be unable to protest this form of reverence). I can see the whole City Council grouped on a platform in top hats and tail coats, Mayor McGavin at the head of them, now quite an old man, because this ceremony will hardly occur before 2,000 A.D. I can hear the speeches and the wild applause.

OUR GENIUS

"THIS NOBLE structure," the orator of the day will say, "represents better than any other outward symbol the true spirit of Victoria, the special genius of this city, the peculiar talents, and the unique civilization which our fathers founded here. In shape, in design, in sheer beauty of line it is the apotheosis of the Victorian Dream."

And under the cornerstone, I have no doubt, will be buried the body of my spy and probably a copy of this column, which has so often defamed that noble dream. Perhaps, indeed, a justly angered public will provide a hook on the side of the new structure from which its traducers and slanderers can be conveniently hung.

In any case, I have dismissed the spy. There is no use her continuing to eye each crack in the stucco with pathetic hope, like an undertaker eying an ailing friend. There is no use her rushing to me with reports of damage and decay. We are beaten. The Fortress of Europe will collapse but the citadel of Pandora Avenue will last forever, will die only to rise again and will be standing even after the city around it has gone back into the jungle.

So I shall not continue the war any longer. I shall admit defeat and recognize that the City Council are better men than I am. Their great work will never be mentioned here again.

Economic Integration of Canada and U.S. Vital After War, Hutchison Says In Fortune

THE LESSONS of economic co-operation, learned in war by the United States and Canada, may be lost when peace returns, unless both nations plan now for postwar collaboration, Bruce Hutchison writes in the July issue of Fortune magazine.

In a signed and illustrated article, Mr. Hutchison points out that Canada has no desire to be economically self-contained in peacetime, and that she needs the U.S. market to maintain full employment—otherwise Canadians may be forced to turn elsewhere for business as well as political co-operation.

"The U.S. and Canada are now closer together physically, economically, militarily and spiritually than any other important nations of the world," Mr. Hutchison says. "Despite numerous efforts to this end, the process of co-ordinating the two nations' economic life could never be achieved before."

JOINT ECONOMIC CONTROLS

"When the U.S. entered the war, the final barrier to complete integration was removed. On December 22 both countries declared their policy; they would pool their materials and allocate them 'in such a way as to permit maximum war production, irrespective of national boundaries.' 'Geography and economic facts had triumphed at last. But only in the interests of war production. On June 17, 1942, the U.S. and Canada decided to set up the machinery of permanent economic co-operation. They established the Joint Economic Committee, to suggest means of smoothing out immediate economic difficulties and to reduce 'probable postwar economic dislocations.'"

"Here was the basis of a long-range plan, for the war has changed Canada from a producer chiefly of raw products into a highly industrialized nation. 'Canada must now figure on finding jobs for at least 1,000,000 more workers after the war than were employed before the war.'"

PROSPECTS

"Canadians know that to maintain anything like full employment it is necessary not merely to hold Canada's prewar markets, but to increase them enormously. The U.S. market has always been the key to the Canadian economy. Thus the first question before every government economist in Ottawa is how much business Canada can do in the U.S."

"Most economists are not very optimistic. Canada's 1938 reciprocal trade treaty offers no real hope of expanding trade much further. Any significant further tariff concessions must be made either through an extension of the President's power or by a new treaty, or by joint tariff legislation."

"The pessimistic school thinks that the U.S., with its new war industries, skills, and above all, its new need for jobs, will buy as few Canadian goods as possible. This school can even see how Canada might be forced into seeking to revive the Ottawa Agreement system, thus securing the Empire market."

"The pressure of Canadian industry against reduced tariffs is one of the chief issues of Canadian life. However, some change is noticeable in the mind of the Canadian manufacturer. The new industries of Canada in many cases could compete successfully with American industries if the tariff wall were taken down completely."

TWO BARGAINING POINTS

"Looking over its balance sheet, Canada finds that it has two bargaining points not usually considered: The air routes for American commercial planes and Canadian co-operation in the St. Lawrence waterway."

TRAVELLERS' FRIEND

WELCOME sound to a weary traveller is the Red Cap's cheerful "Carry your bag, sir?" H. B. Fountain has met the trains since 1912 at Toronto Union Station, has a son in the Air Force. "I start work at 6:30, but my breakfast's always on time with Kellogg's Corn Flakes," he says. "Taste mighty good before I go to bed, too." Kellogg's are ready to eat in 30 seconds, leave no pots and pans to wash. And economical! Get some tomorrow. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

"Quite evidently the U.S. government thoroughly understands Canada's problem. This was proved by the Hyde Park meeting of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Mackenzie King in 1941, and in Washington today there are plenty of leading government officials to assure Canada that the Hyde Park principle will be permanent, that the U.S. will always buy enough from Canada to enable Canada to buy what it needs in the U.S. Whether such a principle is going to exist or not is one of the basic questions."

"In the early days there were good hopes of economic integration. Between 1854 and 1866 the U.S. and Canada maintained a treaty of tariff reciprocity. But the Americans ended the treaty, and when another similar one was presented to the U.S. Senate by President Grant, it was voted down. The two nations settled down to the business of defying geography by preventing the movement of goods north and south."

TARIFF ZENITH

"In 1911 President Taft and Premier Sir Wilfrid Laurier negotiated another reciprocity agreement, but Canada rejected it, believing that reciprocity meant annexation. Then the U.S. swung over to an extreme of high tariffs—first the Fordney-McCumber, then the Hawley-Smoot schedules, which terribly damaged Canada's trade. Canada replied with the Bennett tariffs of the thirties, and with the Ottawa Treaties of 1932, designed to keep the British Empire's markets for its own members."

"In 1935 the two neighbors began to get some sense again. They negotiated a new trade treaty that timidly began to take down the tariff wall. Later came the three-way trade agreements between the U.S., Britain and Canada. But the movement back to trade sanity, designed to stop the approaching war, was too late."

OGDENSBURG . . .

"With the fall of France, the U.S. saw clearly that the territory bounding it on the north could become either a barrier to attack or an avenue for invasion. This realization brought President Roosevelt and Premier King together at Ogdenburg, New York, on Aug. 17, 1940, when they signed a permanent joint defence agreement."

"Meanwhile, after Dunkerque, Canada was compelled to alter its whole war program. Whereas it had intended to produce mostly raw materials for Britain to manufacture, now it had to build a huge war industry of its own. C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply, went to Washington for machine tools, engines, parts, coal and steel. He bought all he could use, and soon Jim Jolley, the worried-looking finance minister, looked forward helplessly to a deficit of $400,000,000 on his American exchange in 1941."

... TO HYDE PARK

"After lunch at Hyde Park on April 20, 1941, Mr. King and Mr. Roosevelt emerged with a brief economic formula to parallel the political formula of Ogdenburg. The Hyde Park agreement stated that 'each country should provide the other with the defence articles which it is best able to produce.' This agreement established in a preliminary way the principle of industrial integration. It suggested a larger and more enduring principle. Cutting through all the old tariff quarrels, the U.S. had promised Canada enough business to maintain the Canadian economy. Here was a principle that might underlie all North American business of the future."

"As a result of this web of joint organization, Canada has received coal, oil, steel, cotton, machine tools, parts and plane engines. The U.S. has received minerals like aluminum and nickel, gun barrels, machine guns, anti-aircraft and anti-tank guns, small arms, chemicals, explosives, cargo ships, corvettes. All this has added up to the largest Canadian-American trade in history. The 1942 total trade of about $2,100,000,000 is equal to nearly half the U.S. total foreign trade in 1938."

"On the production side, integration has made possible Canada's remarkable output of war goods, now running at the rate of $3,700,000,000 a year. Duplication in production has often been avoided. Designs and manufacturing information have been exchanged. Short-term gaps in supplies have been closed by quick exchanges between the two countries. Transportation has been utilized jointly. Significant for the future is the integration of Canadian and American agriculture through the joint farm plan, for this could form a permanent policy."

WITH RUSSIA

There are two things we look forward to. The first is to share with her (Russia) the field of battle. The second is to live with her in friendship and understanding in a world where the phrase 'peace in our time' is something more than a hope.—Maj.-Gen.

Naval College Fete Drew 1,000 Guests; $400 for Red Cross

Almost $400 was realized for the Red Cross by the overwhelming success of the garden party held Dominion Day at the Royal Canadian Naval College, Royal Road. The beautiful grounds of the former Hatley Park were opened to the public under the auspices of the Belmont Unit, Canadian Red Cross.

Over a thousand admissions were received at the gate, and the funds were further augmented by paid admissions to the displays by the cadets, permission for same having been granted by Capt. J. M. Grant. Under the direction of Lt.-Cmdr. G. H. Davidson a display of physical training and apparatus work was given by 30 cadets.

It was first intended to give two night action displays in the gunnery school, but the size of the crowd necessitated additional displays. Commentaries were given by Lt.-Cmdr. Davidson on the display, a simulation of action in the Atlantic in which Canadian ships are daily taking part.

Officers of the Belmont Unit were given loyal support by Cmdr. K. G. B. Ketchum in arranging the many details, general convenors being Mrs. D. B. F. Bullen and Mrs. P. N. Welch.

Weddings

SPECHT-MACASKILL

Victoria friends of the bride, whose mother was until a few months ago honorary treasurer of the Victoria Y.W.C.A., will be interested in the wedding which took place at Ryerson United Church, Vancouver, Saturday, June 26, at which Jean Anne MacAskill and Sgt. Louis H. Specht, R.C.A.F., were principals. Rev. E. D. Braden read the rites for the elder daughter of Mrs. Isobel MacAskill of 1850 West 33rd, Vancouver, and Mr. William MacAskill of Victoria, and the only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Specht, St. Catharines, Ont.

Charming in its simplicity of line was the soft mist blue chiffon wool two-piece tailleur chosen by the bride, with effective contrast in her minute veiled hat of navy which set the note for her other accessories. She carried carnations, roses and sweet peas. Her sister, Miss Barbara MacAskill, and Miss Kay Marling preceded her up the aisle, dressed alike in muted water green wool crepe frocks with which they wore brown tailored hats and accessories, and their flowers were tiny yellow rosebuds. Pte. William MacAskill, the bride's brother, was best man, and Flt. Sgt. Charlton and LAC. Sawyer ushered the guests. PO. A. J. Marling gave the bride in marriage.

At a home reception later in the afternoon, Mr. J. P. Copp of New Westminster proposed the toast. Following a honeymoon on Vancouver Island the couple will reside in Vancouver. The bride is a member of the 1945 nurses' training class of the Vancouver General Hospital.

Extension of Day Nursery Plan Urged in House

By C. R. BLACKBURN
OTTAWA (CP)—Extension of the day nursery plan by which children of war-working mothers are cared for through Dominion-provincial co-operation was urged upon the House of Commons Thursday as a permanent institution.

Mrs. Doris Nielsen (Unity-North Battleford, discussing the nursery plan now operating in Ontario and Quebec, urged that its facilities be open to all working mothers and that it be looked upon as a permanent institution. Several other members supported Mrs. Nielsen while some advocated a policy that would seek to make it possible for all mothers to care for their own children.

$120,000 ALLOCATED

The discussion arose in committee of the whole over an item of $120,000 for day nurseries in the Labor Department's $21,000,000 item in the $3,890,000,000 war appropriation for the current fiscal year. The item was passed and virtually all the Labor Department's war appropriation had been disposed of at the 6 o'clock adjournment.

Labor Minister Mitchell outlined the steps leading to establishment of day nurseries in the past year, and said nothing like it had ever been attempted by a federal government. The nurseries were established as the need for them was reported through local committees, but it took time to educate mothers to the value of this innovation.

Mr. Mitchell said that in the early stages there was no need for special action, except in Ontario and Quebec, and agreements with those provinces for a high degree of child care were reached last year on July 29 and Aug. 3, respectively.

All other provinces have the agreements before them and surveys are being made with the understanding that agreements will be signed when the need arises.

AGREEMENTS AND COST

The agreements provide for: 1. Day nursery care for children two to six years old. 2. Supervision outside of school hours of children more than six years old. 3. Foster home care of children when nurseries are impracticable. 4. Provincial committees with Dominion representation and also local committees, all with representatives of labor, community welfare, health and educational interests.

The cost is on a 50-50 basis between Dominion and province, less the amount contributed by parents—35 cents per day for one child and 15 or 20 cents for additional children from the same family, for nursery care.

The school age supervision plan requires the parents to pay 25 cents a day for the first child and 10 cents for each additional child from the same family. The rates were not "hard and fast," varying according to the unit and the circumstances, Mr. Mitchell said.

About 80 per cent of working mothers prefer to make their own arrangements for care of their children through relatives or friends.

It was difficult to draw a rigid line between the industries in which women employees would be eligible for this service, the minister said, and it was agreed that of children cared for, 25 per cent may be those of mothers not in clearly-defined war industries.

RIGHT TO WORK

"The emancipation of women as wage earners has come to stay," said Mrs. Nielsen. "I feel I am speaking the views of every Canadian woman when I say that the women of Canada do not want, after the war is over, any suggestion that the only place fit for them is in the home."

The need for nurseries to care for children of working mothers existed before the war and would continue after it, she said.

Rev. Daniel McIvor (Lib., Fort William) lauded the work being done, but said it should not be necessary in peacetime. The policy should be to have a society in which mothers could care for their own children.

Angus MacInnis (C.C.F., Vancouver East) said it depended upon the home whether or not the mother was the best one to care for children. The need would go on after the war and the vote seemed small.

Thomas Reid (Lib., New Westminster) agreed with Mr. McIvor that the home was the best place for children, and he hoped this vote would not be necessary after the war.

On behalf of the assembly, Mrs. A. C. Ross presented the general convener, Mrs. M. E. Gardiner with a corsage bouquet of cream and red roses. Various booths were arranged throughout the gardens.

Tables were arranged under the trees for tea served by Mrs. Grover and the Misses Katherine Bray and Josephine Fitzsimmons. Cake contest was conducted by Mrs. E. Shields and hand-knitted infant set donated by Mrs. G. Riddle was in charge of Mrs. L.

Jubilee Senior W.A. Gave $1,484 to Hospital in Year

The Senior Women's Auxiliary to the Royal Jubilee Hospital raised the total sum of $2,671.60 last year. Of this $1,483.93 was expended for hospital equipment and supplies, the sum of $1,000 being spent on a sterilizer alone. The auxiliary starts off the new year with a bank balance of $3,121.32.

This was recorded in the financial statement presented by Mrs. T. Guy Sheppard, the treasurer, at the annual meeting of the auxiliary held Wednesday afternoon in the Nurses' Home. Mrs. Thos. Miller, retiring president, who has held that office for three years, presided at the meeting and in reviewing the year's achievements thanked the members for their splendid work and for their loyal support.

OFFICERS CHOSEN

Mrs. David McMillan was unanimously elected president; first vice-president, Mrs. J. Phethean; second vice-president, Mrs. P. Pollard; third vice-president, Mrs. J. W. V. Church; secretary, Miss M. I. Curry; treasurer, Mrs. E. Sheppard; convener of dues, Mrs. P. E. Taylor; convener of sewing, Mrs. T. Miller assisted by Mrs. A. Read.

Mrs. J. L. Crimp, oldest member of the auxiliary, presented a beautiful bouquet to Mrs. Miller, as an expression of the general appreciation of her able leadership.

NEED FOR EXPANSION

Dr. T. W. Walker, superintendent of the hospital, spoke briefly in appreciation of the valued service rendered to the institution by the auxiliary. After touching upon the difficulties of operating the hospital, owing to wartime depletion of its medical and nursing staffs, scarcity and mounting cost of supplies, coupled with an ever-increasing tax upon its accommodation, Dr. Walker urged the necessity of planning now for expansion. He mentioned the hoped-for 75-bed maternity pavilion, already discussed by the board, and suggested that the auxiliary might work towards its furnishing as worthwhile enterprise.

Miss Lena Mitchell, director of nursing, also thanked the auxiliary for its invaluable assistance throughout the year, mentioning particularly the work of the sewing committee. Alderman J. A. Worthington, president of the board of directors, also added his thanks.

OTHER REPORTS

Miss M. I. Curry, secretary, presented a report of the year's undertakings, coupled with an expression of gratitude to the Junior W.A., the Daughters of Pity and the Alumnae Association for their valued co-operation, also to Dr. Walker, Miss Mitchell and the board of directors.

Other reports were given by Mrs. P. E. Taylor, convener of dues, revealing a membership of 230 and $474 collected in dues. The buying committee convener, Mrs. J. W. V. Church, stated that purchases to the total of $274.50 were made. The acting sewing convener, Mrs. H. G. Helsterman, reported a total of 12,187 articles completed in part.

At the monthly business meeting which preceded the annual, reports were given by the visiting committee, showing much work done. The sewing committee reported 95 completed articles were turned in to the sewing convener and three bolts of flannelette ordered purchased. The dues convener, Mrs. P. E. Taylor, announced $328 collected at Spencer's recently and $53 handed in at this meeting, making a total of $381 received during membership week. Five new members were welcomed. Standing tribute was paid to Mrs. W. Luney who has suffered bereavement.

At the conclusion of the annual meeting refreshments were served.

Community Canning Centres Discussed

Definite interest in home canning under wartime conditions was evidenced at the meeting held in the Y.W.C.A. Wednesday afternoon, when home economists and representatives of women's groups met to hear Miss Marion Casselman of Ottawa. Miss Casselman is an assistant to Miss Laura Pepper of the consumer section of the Federal Department of Agriculture which, in co-operation with the foods administration branch of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, is sponsoring a Dominion-wide food conservation campaign.

Miss Mary Baldwin, Provincial government nutritionist, presided and introduced Miss Casselman, who spoke of the object of her tour, to stimulate interest in home canning and food conservation by the proper methods in order to ensure the protection of the public health.

The meeting decided that, if public interest warrants it, efforts will be made to establish community canning centres and to arrange for demonstrations by home economists. To this end,

Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.P.P., will ascertain if canning centres and equipment are available, and Miss Baldwin will approach home economists on the matter of securing their services as volunteer demonstrators.

Second meeting of the group will be held Tuesday afternoon, the place to be announced later, when a committee will be appointed to further the scheme. Representatives of Victoria W.I., British Columbia Horticultural Association; Local Council of Women, Victoria Victory Garden Committee, and a number of home economists were present Wednesday.

Whereabouts of Adolphe Arthur Leopold Bajwir, his wife Jeanne de Rycker, and Marthe Amey, are sought by International Red Cross authorities through the local Belgian consul, L. J. Eekman. Anyone knowing anything about the three are asked to communicate with Mr. Eekman.

A request that Fire Chief Alex Munroe be sent to represent Victoria at the annual convention of the International Association of Fire Chiefs at Chicago, Aug. 31 to Sept. 3, is contained in a letter from the association received at the City Hall today.

Dorothy Dix:

Dear Miss Dix: We have a very cruel stepmother who makes us (my sister and I) do all the work around the house. It is not that we are lazy, but it is hard work doing it every day. We have no father and that is why she takes advantage of us. Through all these faults, what do you think we should do? We are old enough to look after ourselves.

PERPLEXED.

You don't say how old you are. If you are taking office or other training, try to complete it. Then get jobs so that you may be independent of her. There are plenty of good jobs to be had today and once you are earning your own living there will be no way in which your stepmother can take advantage of you.

Bananas Became Important in Trade Only 60 Years Ago

The plant which produces bananas looks like a tree, but it is not classed as a member of the tree family. It is called a "herb."

What a herb it is. The part which looks like a tree trunk (but which is not woody) often grows to a height of from 10 to 20 feet.

Leaves of huge size branch out from the upper part of the plant. A single leaf is from six to 10 feet long, and from one to three feet wide. Many homes in the tor"plantain" grows wild in India and the East Indies. Africa also has many plantains.

Plantain or banana plants were brought to the New World by Spaniards in early days. The use of the fruit spread widely among Indians as well as whites in Latin America.

The growing of bananas for export has been important for only about 60 years. That period has seen the banana become one of the leading fruits sold in stores in North America.

Central America leads the world in the growing of bananas. Millions of bunches have been shipped from Costa Rica, Honduras and other small republics in that area.

Mexico, the West Indies and Colombia also hold high places in the world's banana crop. Bananas have been planted and grown with some success in Florida, Louisiana and California, but they do not rank among the leading fruits of those states.

Bananas are rich in food value, and contain several vitamins. In time of peace about 30 bananas a year are eaten on the average by each person in Canada and the United States.

rid zone have thatched roofs made from banana leaves.

The flowers of the banana plant grow in clusters. As the flowers fade, their place is taken by tiny fruits in the shape of bananas.

The bananas gain in size, and at length form a "bunch" from 40 to 160. The average number is about 100, and the average weight of a bunch is from 60 to 70 pounds.

In these days of war, we do not often see a bunch of bananas hanging in a store. The grocer sells his supply before a bunch has much time to hang. In peace time, however, the banana bunch is a very common sight.

The grocer hangs his bunch so the free ends of the bananas point downward. Oddly enough, that is the opposite of how they grow. Before they are picked, the loose ends of bananas point upward.

GIVEN the right opportunities Joe Addison would have been one of the greatest runners in the history of track in America. Those are the words of coach Archie McKinnon of the Y.M.C.A. in commenting today on the announcement that Addison, a pilot officer in the R.C.A.F., has been reported missing after air operation overseas.

"Possessing the greatest recuperative powers of any athlete I ever handled Addison could run a 220 and come out 20 minutes later and turn in a brilliant quarter-mile," McKinnon said. "It seemed he had the perfect blood stream to fit into a track man. If Addison had got the breaks and been given the opportunity to attend a college in the United States, where he would have met first-class competition, I feel certain he would have gained the heights. He needed good company to develop. However, he went a lot farther than I ever expected and the report of his being missing was a terrible shock. I, along with his many other track pals of Victoria, and they were legion, can only hope Joe will turn up safe and sound."

McKinnon brought Addison along from the time he first noticed him as a 15-year-old youngster running in a 100-yard sprint at the Athletic Park. "He was using running shoes against a lot of other chaps in spades and his performance showed me he really had something. Joe injured his leg and I advised him not to run again that day. The youngster was so respectful and appreciative of the advice that I lost no time getting him out with the "Y" track team. From that day until his departure overseas Addison was one of my favorite boys and his development into such an outstanding runner has been one of the most pleasing highlights of my career as a coach."

McKinnon also made special mention of Addison's willingness to help along the youngsters. "He was kind-hearted and really showed appreciation for the help given him as a kid and he seemed to derive much pleasure in turning around and giving a helping hand to the rising generation of track hopefuls. Many the running trunks and spikes Addison has given to some budding sprinter less fortunate than himself. During his long association with the "Y" team Addison proved himself a perfect athlete for a coach to handle and the many trips we made to meets will always be among my most cherished memories."

Gunder Haegg was criticized for looking back and trying to find little Gregory Rice in the United States A.U. 5,000-meter race. Experts called it had technique, pointed out that taking a gander might cost Gunder a close race. There was danger of stumbling, etc.

But as it is pointed out by a Swedish admirer of Haegg, one of his reasons for crossing the Atlantic was to study the styles of American runners. And how can he do that unless he turns his head and looks backward? There hasn't been anybody in front of Gunder Haegg for months.

Canadian Derby

Western Prince Wins

WINNIPEG (CP) — Western Prince, a colt picked by Mrs. D. C. Coleman of Montreal from a thoroughbred parade at R. J. Speers' Whittier Park stock farm two years ago, today holds strong claim to recognition as one of Canada's champion three-year-olds.

The bay colt, costing Coleman, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, $1,000, galloped to victory in the $5,000 added Canadian Derby at Polo Park here Thursday, netting his owner $4,755.

The Prince, traveling the mile and a quarter distance for the first time, soundly whipped Sweepgold, only eastern-bred in the classic, and came to the finish line a length and a half ahead of Baby Broom, and three and a half lengths up on Paddygoeasy. Cloverdale was fourth.

Sweepgold, owned by Harry Hatch of Toronto, who was making his fourth bid for the Derby, led at the half-way mark, but faded, and finished sixth in the eight-horse race.

Western Prince's time was 2:13.4 1-5 seconds off the Polo Park record, but he was given a masterful ride by jockey Gus Dye of California. Leading by three lengths at the three-quarter mark, Western Prince staved off the stretch drive of Baby Broom, owned by H. A. Shepherd of Medicine Hat, Alta.

At the finish Paddygoeasy, owned by Dr. L. H. Appleby of Vancouver, winner of the Derby last year with Magnot Line, was moving up strongly. A 30-to-1 shot, he came from seventh position at the three-quarter pole to take third money.

A. G. Kennedy's speedy Omar's Gift—the 37-cent filly, who won the Winnipeg Futurity, big race for juveniles here last year—took an early lead, but lacked staying power. Kennedy got his runner from Speers a year ago for all the cash he had in his pocket at the time the deal was made—37 cents.

Anderson Breaks Haegg's World Record for Mile

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Arne Anderson, 27-year-old school teacher, ran the mile in 4:06.2 Thursday at the Swedish national festival track meet at Gothenburg to cut two seconds off Gunder Haegg's recognized world mark of 4:04.6.

Anderson, known as the "Flying School Teacher," often competed against Haegg but never was able to win.

It was just a year ago that Haegg, now in Chicago, set a world mark of 4:06.2 for the mile while competing in the same national festival meet. Haegg later was timed in 4:04.6, a feat that started him on the road that led to his presence in the United States.

Anderson flashed across the finish line a few yards in front of Rune Gustavson who equaled Haegg's time of 4:04.6.

Whether Anderson's time will be approved officially was not immediately known.

Hole-in-One Golf Draws Good Entry

With the hole-in-one competition attracting a large number of contestants and the side shows and dancing well patronized, the annual golf competition and carnival of the Victoria Gyr Club is off to a flying start.

The affair was officially opened Wednesday evening and will continue through to Saturday night, when finals of the hole-in-one are run off. The event is being staged every night on the Central Junior High School grounds.

Proceeds from the carnival will be turned over to the Solarium. In the hole-in-one event the first night, winners were H. W. Young with a shot 9 1/2 inches from the cup, with Mr. Maynard second, finishing 10 inches away. Thursday night Ron Howard won, the daily prize with a shot that rolled within 4 1/2 inches of the hole. Mr. Esplen was second, being 6 1/2 inches from the cup.

Winners of War Savings Certificates follow: Mayo Bros., Mrs. Blanche Thompson, Yarrows Ltd., Mr. Clayton, Jessie McDowell, Kuzina, T. A. Johnstone, M. Martindale and Mrs. M. C. Pollard.

B.C. Police Squad Wins Revolver Event

Crack team of the B.C. police, comprising W. G. Bailey, J. A. Henry, W. J. Parsley and J. A. Young, captured feature team shoot in the annual revolver competition of the Victoria City Police Revolver Club staged Wednesday. With a score of 1,076 the winners had a seven-point margin over the Seattle squad.

In the competition for service teams the Army finished first with the Navy runner-up, J. Henry and W. Bailey won individual competitions with Alderman Ed Williams taking the event for mayors, Reeves and police commissioners.

Constable Charles Webb won the city police high aggregate, and W. O'Brien the United States citizens' high aggregate.

The game will be continued on Aug. 6 preceding the regularly scheduled game.

Local Baseball Action

One of the most popular members of the Vancouver St. Regis club, Mushy Anselmo, pinstriped catcher, is seen sliding into third base in the afternoon game of Thursday's two exhibitions between the mainlanders and Victoria All-Stars. The third baseman is Whitey Menard. Anselmo had traveled all the way from first and had to hit the dirt to beat the throw. Anselmo was the winner of the base running competition, circling the bases in the fast time of 13 seconds. Victoria won both games to take possession of the Dominion Day trophy.

Major Baseball

Rookie Tops Hitters

Since Joe DiMaggio swept through his spectacular 56-game hitting streak two years ago every other consecutive game hitting performance has been dwarfed into insignificance.

But a little known rookie outfielder for Chicago White Sox, Guy Paxton Curtwright, 30, right now is nursing a hot hitting streak that has reached 26 games, longest of the year. It has made him currently the leading batter in the major leagues.

His average today is .362, 10 points better than Babe Dahlgren of the Phillies, the National League leader, and 24 better than Vernon Stephens of St. Louis Browns, American League pace-maker most of the spring.

Curtwright is a chunky right-handed hitter whom the White Sox brought up from St. Paul this spring. When he passed the border of 150 times at bat Thursday to rate consideration among the American League regulars, he bounced right into the king row.

Actually, he made only one hit Thursday, but this was a lousy triple and it kept his streak going even though it did not figure in the Sox' 2 to 0 triumph over Washington Senators. Credit for this went to the effective four-hit hurling of Bill Dietrich.

Cleveland Indians were given a 3 to 2 decision over New York Yankees when rookie Charley Wensloff walked two men with the bases loaded in the first inning to force in two runs and catcher Ken Sears fumbled a grounder with two out in the eighth to let in the Indians' other run.

Detroit, outlived 12 to 7, nosed out Boston Red Sox 3 to 2 when Ned Harris singled with the bases loaded in the ninth and St. Louis Browns trampled Philadelphia Athletics a little more firmly into the American League cellar with a 2 to 1 11-inning victory.

In the National League Brooklyn Dodgers lost a wild 10 to 9 12-inning verdict to Cincinnati and missed a chance to move fractionally ahead of the idle St. Louis Cardinals.

Dale, Brookman Score Victories At Police Sports

VANCOUVER (CP) — Victoria athletes placed first in two events in the Vancouver Police Association's 37th annual track and field day held here Thursday.

Art Brookman of the Royal Canadian Navy stationed at Victoria, won the open high jump, clearing 5 feet 7 inches and Leo Reise, also of the R.C.N., Victoria, placed second.

Bill Dale of Victoria won the 440 yards open in 51.2 seconds. Mickey Berry, negro sprinter from Toronto and now with the Canadian army stationed in Vancouver, won the 100-yard open event and the 100-yard dash, in uniform, for men in the services.

Reise placed third in the 16-pound shotput, open event, won by Rex Moore, Vancouver police, with distance of 40 feet 5 inches.

Softballers Play For $2,000 Pot In North Africa

By HUGH FULLERTON JR. NEW YORK (AP) — Maybe you think things are a bit dull in the sports line, but the word is that they're having a right good season in northern Africa. We have this straight from Cpl. Vince Murphy, occasional contributor to this column and son of sports editor Jimmy Murphy of the Canton (Ill.) Daily Ledger.

"Probably the most interesting event yet pulled off in north Africa, excluding Rommel's bicycle act," Vince writes, "was a softball game played recently for a $2,000 pot. It seems that a news story praising a team composed of a group of former Texas softballers playing under the name of the 'Texans' was read by members of a mid-western unit whose ball club is called the 'Omavacs.' The Omavacs claimed a prior victory over the Texans and allowed they could repeat. Upshot of the discussion was the decision that each team would wager 1,000 skins on a winner-take-all basis. Partisans of both teams were quick to collect funds to back their favorites and the game drew 3,000 fans. The Omavacs took the decision, 6 to 4, although the Texans gave them a mighty scare in the final inning when one of the lone star boys hoisted a mighty drive that the Omavacs' centerfielder had to take off the fence."

R.A.F. Cricketers Win On Mainland

VANCOUVER (CP) — The R.A.F. cricket team from Patricia Bay, showing a powerful all-round play, scored a 33-run victory over a strong Mainland League team here Thursday. The Flyers rang up an innings total of 163 runs against the Mainland team's 135.

The visitors lost three wickets for a small score but Sammes and Webb combined, to score more than 100 runs in their fourth-wicket partnership. Both made many fine strokes, particularly Sammes who was out in the last over before lunch when he ran out to a full-pitched, slightly-wide delivery from Remnant, missed it and was stumped for 58 runs. Webb compiled 33.

Five wickets were down for 130 at lunch, and the tail-end failed against the bowling of Tommy Reed, who took seven wickets for 63 runs.

Hec McDonald Referee

Hector McDonald, Vancouver's number one referee, and rated one of the ranking officials in western Canada, will be the third man in the ring for the Harvey Dubs-Young Tommy Burns 10-round "fight of century" at the Athletic Park, Tuesday night. First bout on the card will start at 8.30.

Promoter Jack Price stated today he had decided to bring over McDonald to handle his main event as the mainland official was the only referee agreeable to both boys. McDonald was the referee for the recent Dubs-Len Wadsworth championship fight in Vancouver.

Price also announced today that C. A. Clements and F. B. McConnell, directors of personnel at the V.M.D. and Yarrows, respectively, had agreed to act as officials for the show.

Victoria Stars Win Baseball

Capture Two Games From Mainlanders

Victoria's All-Star baseball team registered a double victory in Thursday's intercity holiday games against Vancouver St. Regis, to regain possession of the Dominion Day trophy. In the afternoon the locals blasted a total of 24 hits for a crushing 19 to 5 victory, while they won the evening fixture 5 to 2 in a pitching duel between Lefty Medansky of the local Arms-club and Sandy Robertson.

At the conclusion of the night game Alderman Burgess Gadsden presented the championship cup to Joe Casey, manager of the Victoria team, congratulating the winners on their two smart exhibitions. Both games drew large crowds.

Featured by left fielder Ken Van Hatten's pair of home runs, the all-services' team of sluggers smashed the ball to every corner of the ball park to take the afternoon game. Van Hatten lifted the ball over the centerfield fence, with two men aboard, in the third and duplicated the trick in the sixth with the bags empty.

Gil Bruce, centre fielder of the locals, took the batting honors for the afternoon, hitting four for six.

FOUR HURLERS WORK — Jerry Ray, R.C.A.F., worked the first six innings for Victoria, giving up eight hits and four runs. In the seventh Jimmy Dumeah of the Navy took over and allowed three hits and one run in his three-inning turn.

Veteran Jimmy Condon opened for St. Regis, but after the Victoria boys had got to him for 16 hits and 12 runs he was chased to the showers in the sixth, to be replaced by youthful Danny Holden. The latter gave up eight hits and seven runs.

Getting to Robertson for four hits, good for as many runs, Victoria sewed up the night affair in the first inning. For the remainder of the game the Vancouver chucker hurled airtight ball, giving up only one more counter. But Medansky was just as effective for Victoria, allowing St. Regis just two single runs in the nine innings, one coming from Coley Hall, veteran first baseman of the visitors, line drove the ball out of the park.

Victoria picked up 11 hits off Robertson, while St. Regis touched Medansky for two less. Robertson struck out four and walked a pair. Medansky fanned two and issued a like number of passes.

In the ball throwing competition Robertson was the winner with Julian Sawchuk of Victoria second. Mushy Anselmo took the honors in the base running, going around the bag in the fast time of 13 seconds. "Nerts" Parent, Victoria shortstop, was second, 1 second slower.

Short scores follow:

First game — R. H. E.
St. Regis — 5 11 5
Victoria — 19 24 3
Batteries—Condon, Holden and Laycock; Ray, Dumeah and Sawchuk.

Second game — R. H. E.
St. Regis — 2 9 2
Victoria — 5 11 3
Batteries—Robertson and Anselmo; Medansky and Harney.

GAME TONIGHT

Victoria teams will swing back into league play tonight with the league-leading Victoria Machinery Depot engaging the Eagles, starting at 6.30. In their last meeting the lodgemen pulled the surprise of the season by scoring their first and only win at the expense of the shipbuilders.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 the Army and Navy will hook up in a battle for second place. In the evening at 6.30 the V.M.D. will meet the fourth place R.C.A.F.

Zev Dies, Aged 23

LESSBURG, Va. (AP) — Zev, Kentucky Derby winner in 1923 and one of the great thoroughbreds of the American turf, is dead at the age of 23. His end came last week at Belmont, Brig-Gen. Patrick J. Hurley's estate, to which he was taken three years ago.

Zev is remembered as winner of the greatest international match race in American history, when he defeated Papyrus, English champion and winner of the 1923 Epsom Derby. Zev was owned by oilman Harry F. Sinclair.

Lawn Bowling

Thursday was a busy day on the greens of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club in Beacon Hill Park. Thirty players took part in the morning doubles. First place was won by G. A. Marconini and F. R. Exham with a lead of 11 over their opponents, and second by T. York and J. Morton with a margin of nine.

In afternoon mixed rinks 64 men and women participated. The winning rink was skipped by W. R. Shearing, assisted by Mrs. Butterfield, A. Allan and J. H. Goodwin, who defeated E. W. Pitman, W. H. Youhill, W. N. Smith and Mrs. Phillips by 24 to 9. Second prize was won by F. B. Yates' rink, comprising A. D. Mann, Mrs. Osborne Smith, and Miss Swaizland, who defeated A. J. Shunk, A. W. Walker, M. Paterson and E. B. Jones 25 to 13.

20 Building Permits Issued in Esquimalt

Twenty building permits, calling for construction and additions to buildings at a cost of $18,808 were issued by the municipality of Esquimalt for the first half of 1943.

Majority of the permits were sought in order to make additions to existing buildings or for construction of garages. Included in the half-yearly figure were five permits issued for the month of June for building work to cost $4,885.

Permit for construction of the municipal garage at a cost of $5,000 was the largest item in the list of permits.

Crop Prospects

Cherries, Strawberries Having Poor Season

Many people are worried about their cherries. They don't look any too good; they are small, yellow and rather shriveled and they are falling prematurely.

Several people in the last few days have phoned the Times to find out what's wrong. Officials of the Dominion Experimental Farm at Saanichton and the Department of Agriculture at the Parliament Buildings agree "the crop isn't any too good." They blamed weather conditions. During the blooming period there were cold winds and not enough warm sunshine and pollination didn't take place properly, because there were not enough bees around.

"If there is not nice, warm weather and lots of insect activity you don't get a good set," agreed the experts, adding, "the crop isn't any too good." They didn't take place properly, because there were not enough bees around.

STRAWBERRIES DISAPPOINTING

The experts expressed disappointment at the strawberry crop, which they said is now just about over. Dry weather last fall (105 days without rain) and heaving of plants during the winter because of the severe frost, with injury to the root systems, all have taken their toll.

Many people are worried about their potatoes, which, in an unusually large number of cases seem to be all tops. The experts said not to worry—there isn't much can be done at this late date. They agreed that tall tops are due to excessive nitrogen in the soil and not enough potash. In addition, lots of poor seed was used.

Two experts almost laughed when asked what they thought about taking the top few potatoes from each root and leaving the rest for September digging.

"That's a new one," said one of the experts.

Both agreed it would be much better to leave well enough alone—that is, leave the plants strictly alone until the tops die down and shrivel up. If you go monkeying around, taking a few from each root, you are bound to break up the root stocks where the young tubers are forming and so possibly ruin them.

"It's very, very tempting, all right, and I know how you feel, but it's better to stifle curiosity and avoid the very, very strong temptation," said one Saanichton official.

An agriculture department expert said he had seen many Greater Victoria-Victoria gardens and he judged good crops would result.

The Saanichton man, however, said farmers of the lower island are not any too well pleased with general crop conditions and fear poor results.

Ex-Boris Crewman Held for Slashing Victorians' Throat

Arthur Braidwood, 2122 Cook Street, was under treatment at Jubilee Hospital for a knife wound in the throat and George Dretas, reportedly a former member of the Greek freighter Boris, was charged in city court today with wounding as the result of a fight starting at 12.35 this morning in the Mandarin Cafe. He was remanded until tomorrow in order to obtain counsel. He did not plead to the charge.

According to the city police report, trouble started in the cafe after midnight. Braidwood left the cafe and was followed shortly by Dretas.

T. Lidgate, 846 Leslie Drive, told police he had seen Dretas push Braidwood back against a parked car and run away when Braidwood fell to the ground.

When Braidwood regained his feet, Lidgate and Horace Taylor, 682 Alpha Street, found him cut and bleeding from the throat. They took him in their truck to the police station.

Braidwood was taken to Jubilee Hospital by Constable R. Maitland and was attended by Dr. J. H. Moore. Dr. Moore reported the slash on the left of the victim's throat to be severe but not fatal. The jugular vein had not been touched, he said.

Dretas, in this country under bond, was charged following an interview with Nick Lerich, who acted as interpreter.

Teachers Hear English Duettists

The warm and enthusiastic welcome accorded the English vocalists, Victoria Anderson, contralto, and Viola Morris, soprano, when they opened the Summer School concert series at 11 Thursday morning, is indicative of the popularity they have achieved through unique presentation of both operatic and folk songs in previous appearances here.

Opening and closing the program with a group of well-selected duets, Miss Anderson and Miss Morris added to the program by singing solos in their respective fields. They were assisted by the accomplished pianist, Miss Norma Abernethy.

A group of 16th and 17th century songs arranged for two voices immediately revealed the fine musicianship, close understanding and controlled balance so necessary to all duets. The student assembly gathered in the Victoria High School auditorium also enjoyed the French and German lieder which followed.

One of the most popularly received solos was "My Man John," a humorous English folk-song arranged by Cecil Sharpe and sung by Miss Anderson. Very different in mood and musical content was the beautiful "Young Nun" by Schubert, which displayed to advantage the soprano voice of Miss Morris.

By special request, the duettists sang the Australian song which has been called the "second national anthem"—"Waltzing Matilda."

After the recital, Dr. C. E. Conway, director of the Summer School, entertained the guest artists at luncheon.

Next on the concert series the Summer School will present David Oldham, baritone, with Edgar Holloway, pianist, July 6.

Tonight the opening dance of the school will be held in the Victoria High School auditorium, when hostesses will be members of course No. 8.

Commanding Officer Of Naden Bereaved

Sympathy of a wide circle of friends will be extended to the family of Mrs. Monica Ethel Hart, wife of Capt. F. G. Hart, commanding officer of H.M.C.S. Naden, who passed away yesterday at her residence, 1740 Fort Street, after a long illness.

She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Davis and came to Canada from Sunderland, England, as a girl. She was a pupil of St. Margaret's and St. George's School and married Capt. Hart in Victoria in July, 1925. Until her illness she was an active worker in the R.C.N. Women's Auxiliary.

Besides her husband she leaves three children, Elizabeth, Frederick and Joan, and a brother, Sgt. H. S. Davis, R.C.O.C.

Funeral service will be held at Christ Church Cathedral Saturday afternoon at 3.

Molly Justice Murder

Pocketknife Produced With Human Blood On It

A blood-stained, bone-handled pocket knife, taken from the club bag of the accused when he was arrested June 15, was presented as an exhibit in Saanich Police Court today as preliminary hearing of the charge of murder opened against William Mitchell. Magistrate H. C. Hall is presiding.

Mitchell, clad in dark trousers with a heavy black sweater buttoned to his neck, appeared to smile as the charge of murdering Molly Justice, "teen-age Saanich girl," was read. The body of the girl was found in the snow beside the railway tracks near Swan Lake on the night of Jan. 18.

After Frederick Butterfield, B.C. land surveyor and civil engineer, had identified plans of the region, Detective David Donaldson testified to the arrest of the accused in his 10x10 second-story room on Johnson Street June 15. The warrant covering his arrest was based on a statutory charge, witness said.

Detective Donaldson testified he had instructed the accused to bring his baggage to the station, where search of a club bag had disclosed the knife. The detective said it had been turned over to Dr. G. A. McCurdy.

HUMAN BLOOD ON KNIFE

Dr. McCurdy, director of the pathological laboratory at the Jubilee Hospital, testified the knife bore stains which, under test, proved to be those of human blood.

Pictures of the body of the deceased were identified, and Dr. J. H. Moore, who conducted the autopsy, listed the multiple wounds sustained by Miss Justice. Death, he said, resulted from hemorrhage arising from the wounds, most probably that which severed the jugular vein. Prosecutor C. L. Harrison, who is assisted by E. L. Tait, presented the knife to Dr. Moore and asked him if the deep wounds could have been caused by it.

P. J. Sinnott, defence counsel, objected, but his objection was overruled.

COULD HAVE CAUSED WOUNDS

"That knife could have caused the incised wounds I have described," Dr. Moore said after examining the exhibit.

He expressed opinion the puncture wounds of the neck were among the last inflicted, since the profuse hemorrhage from the severed ering of the jugular vein would be fatal.

There was no evidence of rape, the doctor said.

G. F. Dunn, Kenneth Street, testified he had ridden from the city in the same bus as Molly Justice and had been sitting beside her before she left the vehicle about 6.10 near the bridge across from the Saanich fire hall. It was just getting dark at the time, Miss Justice held three parcels, he believed. The bus was crowded, witness added.

L. W. Whittaker, bus driver, said Miss Justice had boarded the bus downtown and got off somewhere around Carey Road or University Avenue. It was snowing at the time, he said.

Patricia May McAllister, a resident of the district near Swan Lake, testified she had kicked two parcels as she scuffed the snow while walking on the railway track on her way to skate at the lake.

She did not stop to inspect them and they had disappeared when she returned with her friend, Jean Reid, from the lake about 9.30, she said.

Several people were skating and there was a bonfire at the lake, she said.

Miss Reid corroborated her testimony and added the parcels looked as if they had been placed, not thrown, on the track.

FOUND BLOOD ON PARCELS

Arthur James Logie, Saanich fireman, testified he and his wife had gone for a walk on the evening of Jan. 18. After watching skaters at Swan Lake they had started back home and found the parcels on the railroad tracks. They had taken them home and when the light was turned on found wrappings covered with blood. Mr. Logie said he had called Sgt. Eric Elwell, Saanich police, and the two had inspected the packages which contained a woolen sweater and socks as well as a pair of women's shoes.

With Constable V. Smith they had gone back to the tracks where the parcels had been found. Using flashlights, they looked over the district, witness said, and Constable Smith shouted he had found the body. It was lying 10 to 12 feet from the track, parallel to the rails.

There was no snow on the body or clothing, witness said.

Mr. Sinnott questioned all witnesses closely.

The hearing is continuing.

Holiday Travel Good

While boat travel over the Dominion Day holiday was heavy, with all available accommodation taken, no special steamers were required to handle the overflow, as on previous holidays.

All the regular boats plying between here and Vancouver carried capacity lists of passengers, the majority being men and women of the services on furlough. Hotels and restaurants look for considerable influx of American visitors here for the July 4 celebration.

Brewers, Liquor Board Men Liable to Work Transfer

Analysis of the newest compulsory employment transfer order lists a large number of additional businesses which will now come under the classification of non-essential industries insofar as they concern workers.

Brewing comes under the non-essential heading as well as special livestock raising, such as racehorses, dogs, cats and other pets, flower nurseries, leather currying and horticultural services. Tree surgery, embraced in the horticultural category, is exempted.

Other manufacturing classifications from which workers can be transferred include those businesses dealing in fur goods, robes and dressing-gowns, neckties and scarves, curtains and draperies, metal household and office furniture, rattan and willowware, cigar boxes and fancy wood boxes, mirror and picture frames, perfumes, cosmetics and toilet preparations and handbags and small leather and household furniture. Mattresses and bedsprings, however, are considered essential and are exempted.

COMPULSORY TRANSFER

Men under specified age groups, including those subject to call for compulsory military service, and youths of 16, 17 and 18 years of age are subject to compulsory transfer to essential work by National Selective Service in any wholesale activity except the wholesaling of farm products, other than tobacco, food products, lumber and building materials, plumbing, heating and ventilating supplies, electrical equipment, gasoline, oils and greases, fuel and ice service, farm supplies, metals, minerals and chemicals, paper and products, books, newspapers, magazines, sheet music, watches, clocks and timing instruments, leather and leather goods, scrap metal, junk and waste.

Just how many men of the specified age groups will be affected in the Victoria area could not be ascertained today, but it was generally admitted that the number available for work transfer would be large.

The new order will become effective July 15 next.

Victoria Aged Pensioners Association will meet Tuesday afternoon in the lower hall, First Baptist Church.

Contrary to previous announcements, J. Falconer, who has purchased Armstrong Bros. shipyard, has no connection with any other shipyard in British Columbia.

Thousands More Men
Under New Transfer Order

OTTAWA (CP) — Labor Minister Mitchell has announced issuance of the third compulsory employment transfer order, which will make thousands of men—including many in wholesale establishments—available for more essential work after July 15.

The order, like its two predecessors, applies to men in age groups subject to call for compulsory military service and, in line with the minister's recent announcement in the House of Commons, to youths of 16, 17 and 18 years of age.

Subject to compulsory transfer to more essential work by National Selective Service under the third transfer order are men in these age groups in:

1. Any wholesale activity except the wholesaling of the following commodities: Farm products other than tobacco; food products; lumber and building materials; plumbing, heating and ventilating supplies; electrical equipment for industrial use; machinery and equipment; gasoline, oils and greases; fuel and ice; farm supplies; metals, minerals and chemicals; paper and its products; books, newspapers, magazines and sheet music; watches, clocks and timing instruments; leather and leather goods; scrap metal, junk and waste.

2. Raising of special livestock like race horses, and dogs, cats and other pets.

3. Flower-growing.

4. Horticultural services, except tree surgery.

5. Leather carrying, finishing, embossing and japanning.

6. Brewing.

7. Manufacturing in any of the following lines: Fur goods; robes and dressing gowns; neckties and scarves; curtains and draperies; metal household furniture; household furniture of other kinds, except mattresses and bed-springs; metal office furniture; rattan and wickerware; cigar boxes and fancy boxes of wood; mirror and picture frames; perfumes, cosmetics and other toilet preparations; and handbags and small leather goods.

The age groups subject to military call-up—and hence subject to the transfer order along with youths of 16, 17 and 18, are set forth by the minister as:

"Every man who was born in any year from 1917 to 1924 and who has reached age 19, regardless of whether married or single; and to every man born from 1902 to 1916 who on July 15, 1940, was unmarried, divorced or judicially separated, or was then a widower without children, even if such a man has since married; and it also refers to a man who has become a widower since July 15, 1940, and has no children now living; as well as to men who since that date have been divorced or judicially separated."

Men covered in the earlier orders had co-operated "quite readily" with the regulations.

"Over 24,000 men have been interviewed under the earlier orders, and many of them have already been transferred to higher priority work," said the minister.

"The cases of a considerable additional number are still under review."

Compulsory Regulations

Thousands More Men
Under New Transfer Order

OTTAWA (CP) — Labor Minister Mitchell has announced issuance of the third compulsory employment transfer order, which will make thousands of men—including many in wholesale establishments—available for more essential work after July 15.

The order, like its two predecessors, applies to men in age groups subject to call for compulsory military service and, in line with the minister's recent announcement in the House of Commons, to youths of 16, 17 and 18 years of age.

Subject to compulsory transfer to more essential work by National Selective Service under the third transfer order are men in these age groups in:

1. Any wholesale activity except the wholesaling of the following commodities: Farm products other than tobacco; food products; lumber and building materials; plumbing, heating and ventilating supplies; electrical equipment for industrial use; machinery and equipment; gasoline, oils and greases; fuel and ice; farm supplies; metals, minerals and chemicals; paper and its products; books, newspapers, magazines and sheet music; watches, clocks and timing instruments; leather and leather goods; scrap metal, junk and waste.

3. Flower-growing.

4. Horticultural services, except tree surgery.

5. Leather carrying, finishing, embossing and japanning.

6. Brewing.

7. Manufacturing in any of the following lines: Fur goods; robes and dressing gowns; neckties and scarves; curtains and draperies; metal household furniture; household furniture of other kinds, except mattresses and bed-springs; metal office furniture; rattan and wickerware; cigar boxes and fancy boxes of wood; mirror and picture frames; perfumes, cosmetics and other toilet preparations; and handbags and small leather goods.

Resorts on Island Popular This Year

Many of Vancouver Island's better-known summer resorts are well on the way to being filled to capacity during the months of July and August. This means that if you have not already made your arrangements, you may not be able to go to the vacation spot you have picked out for your yearly holiday. Don't be disappointed if this should happen. There are many other summer spots on Vancouver Island—not as well known, perhaps, but offering just as much fun and entertainment and just as fine a type of accommodation as the larger and better-known holiday spots. If you spend your vacation at any one of them you'll be happy. Here are a few suggestions for you:

Mill Bay—Beautiful natural surroundings. Splendid swimming and fishing. Good accommodation—both guest house and auto camps. SUMMERVILLE GUEST HOUSE offers a quiet retreat for those who really wish to relax and rest. MILL BAY INN has cabin and cottage accommodation with dining-room service. LAGUNA VISTA, an ideally situated resort offers cabin and cottage accommodation with dining-room service in a charming little inn resort. TILlicum SEASIDE COTTAGE CAMP has any number of fine summer cottages, well furnished. Situated in a private woodland right on the shore. Qualicum Bay—Nine miles north of the beach. A delightful little summer community that pleases everyone who stays there. Good swimming. Splendid accommodation—both summer inn and cottage camps. CASA DEL MAR, a delightful little English country-style inn, offers modern cottage accommodation, right on the beach. GREEN GABLES COTTAGE CAMP is comfortable, clean and modern. Splendid spring water here.

Royston—This is a spot that deserves more than a passing thought from vacationists. Only a few miles south of Courtenay and directly across from Comox it has wonderful scenery, splendid fishing, good swimming—and is easily reached by bus or train. IDEAL RESORT, situated in a private woodland, right along the shore, offers cottage accommodation. Clean and comfortable, each cottage has a good view. Many of them are right on the beach. Unusual Courses In Wide Variety At Summer School

Concise and unusual are the courses offered at the Provincial Summer School of Education this session, with specialists in such subjects as library service, sports education, graphic and practical arts, music and educational psychology directing the overflowing classrooms.

Among the assembly gathered in the auditorium for the opening ceremony, the majority were young women teachers, averaging in age about 23 years, and including many straight from normal school, with no practical experience in the teaching profession.

Here and there is an older woman, undoubtedly a teacher being brought "back in harness" due to war-caused labor shortage, women who perhaps have had an interim of many years' domesticity since last time they closed the schoolroom door. Now with grown-up children and the reins of responsibility slackened somewhat, they are feeling the need of activity, and in a way that is not merely a financial convenience but a patriotic reply to the urgent call for teachers sent out by the Department of Education.

Some of the summer school students are returning to blackboard and the memorabilia of new books, lectures and inter-class activity simply to "keep up with things" as one woman expressed it. Others are serious students striving for specialist certification courses they have already studied.

LIBRARY COURSE

In the library course, under the supervision of Walter Lanning, B.A., B.L.S., librarian of Vancouver Technical School, students will learn the use of a library, its housing and equipment, acquisition of books, organization of library materials, care of books, and the essential business and administrative records.

Mr. Lanning also directs the students of his course to integrate the library into the school program, guidance to reading and other similar subjects. For the use of all students is the library and reading-room, and for those who wish to do research in particular fields, a special workshop library.

Ernest Lee, B.A., B.S. in P.E., instructor at the Provincial Normal School in Vancouver, introduces rhythmic, imitative, combative and agility activities in the elementary P.E. laboratory, and in the high school course, marching tactics, Swedish and Danish exercises, tumbling and light apparatus work. He is assisted in this course by Miss Betty Lynd Thompson, M.A., associate professor of physical education, and head of educational dance at Oregon State College, who teaches anatomy and physiology as well as her own particular field of technique of the modern dance.

Graphic and practical arts, headed by Miss Jessie Parkes, supervisor of practical arts for the Vancouver schools, embraces many related subjects, art metal work, basketry, pottery, leather work and wood-carving, as well as lectures on the use of crafts in schoolroom enterprises.

CREATIVE MUSIC

There are seven branches of music training given in the course conducted by Burton L. Kurth, chief supervisor of music for Vancouver schools. With Mr. Kurth

Saskatoon.

Rodney Lionel Strina, Vancouver.

Geo. Armstrong, North Gabriola Island, B.C., and 453 Arnold Ave., Victoria.

Robt. Emmet Curran, Ottawa, and Winnipeg.

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

"We have a solemn duty to help keep down inflation—let me suggest that we keep close check on our husbands' spending money!"

'Air Raid Wardens'
Hilarious Comedy

Laurel and Hardy are back again in a hilarious new comedy in tune with the times in M-G-M's "Air Raid Wardens," now playing at the Dominion Theatre. Though the picture is chock full of riotous situations, the comedians poke fun at no one but themselves and deliver a stirring patriotic lesson.

When the two partners try to join the armed forces and are rejected by all branches, they return to their home town and become air raid wardens to do their bit. When their blunders create havoc in the ranks they become perilously involved and as a result are mustered out of the wardens' service. But they manage to stumble on a ring of saboteurs and round them up to become the town's heroes.

You'll scream with laughter when you see them actually make a victim of banker Howard Freeman during a first aid practice drill, and howl when they run afoul of Edgar Kennedy when he refuses to co-operate during a blackout.

Jacqueline White and Horace McNally provide the romantic interest. Donald Meek and Henry O'Neill are effective saboteurs. Howard Freeman and Nella Walker aid in the laughmaking episodes which Edward Sedgwick, a former comedian himself, directed with skill.

YORK THEATRE

Combining the talents of dynamic Van Heflin and singing starlet Kathryn Grayson, "Seven Sweethearts," which is now being shown at the York Theatre, provides young romance and beauty aplenty in one of the season's brightest offerings.

Heflin, as a cocky reporter who bumps into love while covering a tulip festival in Little Delit, Michigan, fulfills the promise he showed in "Johnny Eager" and "Kid Glove Killer."

Kathryn Grayson is engaging as his sweetheart, the youngest of seven daughters who manage a hotel for their eccentric Dutch father. She sings two numbers written especially for the picture, "Little Tingle-Tangle Toes" and "You and the Waltz and I."

PLAZA THEATRE

Comedy, songs and romance are blended in Universal's "Rhythm of the Islands," currently at the Plaza Theatre. Allan Jones and Jane Frazee are costarred, and the supporting cast includes Andy Devine, Mary Wickes and Ernest Truex.

Other entertaining highlights in the new film are presented by the Step Brothers, the celebrated Horton Dancers and Acquafetta.

CAPITOL THEATRE

"That's the horse I want, dad," says enthusiastic Roddy McDowall, to his skeptical screen father, Preston Foster, in the technicolor screen version of Mary O'Hara's best seller, "My Friend Flicka," now at the Capitol Theatre. Teeming with emotion, tumultuous with thrills, this simple story of a boy, his horse and his family set in the west of today rates high in the list of Hollywood's best productions.

RIO THEATRE

One of the cinema season's strangest dramas of mystery and crime, currently at the Rio Theatre, "Living Ghost," is the title of this chiller-diller, and it details the grim hunt for a murderous fiend who transformed his victims into "modern dress" zombies. James Dunn and Joan Woodbury head the cast, which includes Minerva Urecal, Jan Wiley, Paul McVey, Lawrence Grant, J. Farrell MacDonald and Forrest Taylor. William Beaudine directed.

ATLAS THEATRE

Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn are co-starred in "Keeper of the Flame," a mystery drama now playing at the Atlas Theatre. The story embraces Tracy's efforts to solve the mystery of the death of Miss Hepburn's husband. The picture was directed by George Cukor and produced by Victor Saville and Leon Gordon.

CADET THEATRE

Discovered among the extra players in Warner Bros.' "Gentleman Jim," now at the Cadet Theatre, was one Joseph North. Joe North never fought any fights, but he has an amazing fistic background.

He was the personal valet for three champions—for Jack Dempsey, Gene Tunney and for James J. "Gentleman Jim" Corbett.
